Our Forces Entrenching Themselves Near Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Monday, Feb. 22, 1864.

THE MARCH.

The entire column, numbering a little less than 8,000 men, left Barber's at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, and proceeded on the main road toward Lake City. I am confident the force did not exceed the number stated, for I am assured by an Aide-de-Camp to Gen. SEYMOUR, that rations were drawn that morning for not quite 5,000. The forward movement was made suddenly. On Friday it was not supposed by the commanding officers—not including Gen. SEYMOUR—that an advance would be made for some days thence. With that conviction, the officers and men had built themselves log huts, and provided such conveniences available in that section as would insure a fair share of comfort. Some time during the night Gen. SEYMOUR received information of the enemy's whereabouts and plans, which led him to believe that by pushing rapidly forward his column, he would be able to defeat the enemy's designs, and secure important military advantages. Whatever that information may have been, the events of Saturday would indicate that it was by no means reliable, or that Gen. SEYMOUR acted upon it with too much haste. We all know that Gen. SEYMOUR is not a man to hesitate in his actions when an opportunity offers for a possible success. He is one of the class that believes he has a chance of winning and a chance of losing, and that success would never be obtained if he rested quietly on the bend of the little South Fork. He means it shall never be said of the army that he commands that it is all quiet on the line of some river. Gen. SEYMOUR deserves credit for his ambition and dash. If he had allowed himself to rest his command at Barber's for a month or six weeks, without making a single effort to engage the enemy and gain advantage, he would have been the butt for censure, not only from the army here, but the people at home. We take the ground that Gen. SEYMOUR did what nearly everyone, before the engagement, said he should do. If he had achieved a victory, it would have been as everybody predicted, and his name would have been mentioned with praise. Now he has suffered a repulse, he will, of course, be looked upon by some as having too much rashness to prosecute a campaign, and for that reason must bear whole loads of censure. Although the result of the fight was not favorable for us, it does not alter the fact that we have a man in the department of the South who has pluck enough to meet the enemy, regardless of his strength, more than half way; give him battle, and take the legitimate chances of success.

The place at which the fight occurred is on the line of the Florida Central Railroad, forty-five miles from Jacksonville, and within fifteen miles of Lake City. The nearest station to the ground is called Olustee, which is about three miles further up toward Lake City. The nearest station in the opposite direction is Sanderson, six miles distant from the battle-field. On the march from Barber's, our troops passed through Sanderson at about noon. At this place they did not halt, but pushed forward toward Olustee, the point at which Gen. SEYMOUR believed he should meet the enemy. But instead of coming in contact with the enemy at Olustee, the meeting took place three miles this side, so our troops were not so well prepared for battle as they would have been if Olustee had been the battle-field. Our column moved forward in regular order, the cavalry in the advance, and the artillery distributed along the line of infantry. It may be offered as an objection that the column was without flankers. The only source through which any intimation of the enemy's presence could be received was the advance cavalry guard. It would certainly be called a military failing to move a column of troops without the proper flankers through any portion of the enemy's country, even if positive information had been obtained that the enemy himself was a long distance off. The road from Barber's to Lake City lies parallel with the railroad, crossing it at intervals on an average of five miles. It was at one of these crossing-points that the fight was commenced. The head of the column reached this point at 2 P. M. The men had not rested from the time they left Barber's, at 7 A. M. The usual halt of a few minutes every hour was of course observed, but we cannot say the troops fairly rested. Neither had they tasted of a mouthful of food. Thus, after a tedious march of sixteen miles, over a road of loose sand, or boggy turf, or covered knee-deep with muddy water, the troops, weary, exhausted, faint, hungry and ill-conditioned, were suddenly attacked by a large force of the enemy, who had concealed himself behind a thick wood, waiting with complacent satisfaction the entry of our men into his ambush, very much after the manner that the spider would have the fly walk into his parlor. Before reaching the battle-ground, Col. HENRY, with his cavalry of the Independent Massachusetts Battalion and the Fortieth Massachusetts Mounted Infantry, came upon a party of five mounted rebels who were stationed behind an old deserted mill, a little to the left of the wood. A few shots were exchanged and then the rebels fled in the direction of their main force. Capt. LANGDON'S battery of regular artillery was with HENRY'S cavalry. At the mill, Col. HENRY halted until HAWLEY'S brigade of infantry and HAMILTON'S regular battery had come up. I will now attempt to give some idea of the order in which our troops came into line, and the character and progress of the BATTLE.

With the view of meeting the enemy's pickets, three miles in advance of the mill, two companies of the Seventh Connecticut Regiment were deployed on the left of the railroad, while three companies were left at the mill, for the purpose of supporting the artillery. A small force of cavalry was sent to skirmish on the right of the railroad. Our skirmishers had not advanced a hundred yards when they discovered those of the enemy directly in their front. The result was a brisk fire on both sides, which ended by the enemy's falling back on a second line of skirmishers. Our men continued to drive the rebels back, sometimes on the right and sometimes on the left of the railroad, but principally on the left. While this was going on, two companies of the Fortieth Massachusetts were ordered to the left, with a view of outflanking the enemy's skirmishers. In endeavoring to carry out that order the Fortieth Massachusetts came upon a heavy line of skirmishers and were compelled to withdraw to their original position.

Capt. ELDER, of the First Artillery, in order to ascertain the enemy's force and position, brought one of his pieces into battery on the right and fired one shot, but it did not draw a reply. The Seventh New-Hampshire Regiment, in connection with the Seventh Connecticut, was then sent forward to the right and if possible to break through the enemy's line. This movement brought on hot firing, and it was evident that an engagement was near at hand. At this time our force on the field consisted of the Seventh New-Hampshire, the Seventh Connecticut, the Independent Battalion of Massachusetts Cavalry, the Fortieth Massachusetts Mounted Infantry, the Eighth United States Colored, ELDER'S Battery of four and HAMILTON'S of six pieces. The remainder of the column was halted on the road. While our men were at work on the right, Col. HENRY, in person, went over to the left to reconnoitre, and much to his astonishment discovered that the enemy's right lapped on our left. This was reported to Gen. SEYMOUR, who immediately gave orders for the advance troops and batteries to come into position. The enemy watched the movements with an eager eye, and the moment HAMILTON commenced unlimbering his pieces his battery was subjected to a galling fire of musketry. A number of men and several horses were shot before he could get ready to fire one round. The fact that the enemy had a force far superior in point of numbers to our own was now beyond all dispute. The firing became heavier and more destructive as each moment advanced. The railroad as it nears Olustee takes a bend, and behind this bend the rebels had taken their position. In the woods at the rear were their supporters and reserves. We had not a moment to lose. Our men were within one hundred yards of the enemy, and the only thing that could be done was to fight. To retreat at that time was impossible, for the road was filled with troops coming up, and the woods on either side would not admit of passage on the flank. By dint of effort, Capt. LANGDON succeeded in getting his four guns in battery on the extreme left, but not until he had lost five or six men and about the same number of horses. It must be borne in mind our batteries were within one hundred yards of the enemy's front. This short distance rendered it a very easy task for the rebels to pick off a man or horse at every discharge of their rifles. At the commencement of the fight, the Eighth United States Colored Troops were supporting HAMILTON'S Battery, but when their assistance was really indispensable, by some strange order they filed to the right in rear of the battery, for the purpose of joining their right on the left of the Seventh Connecticut. At that particular time the movement was decidedly an error, for by carrying it out it left HAMILTON'S Battery unsupported. In an attempt to infilade the enemy on his right, HAMILTON moved forward four pieces; but before he got into position, the rebels on that portion of their line had concentrated all their fire upon him and the Eighth U. S., who had again come up to his support. In twenty minutes' time, HAMILTON lost 44 men, killed and wounded, and 40 horses. The Eighth also suffered severely. At no one juncture of the engagement was the fire of the enemy been more severe than at the time HAMILTON attempted his enfilade movement. HAMILTON knew very well his pieces were in great danger of being captured, and he also had sense enough to know that by taking them to the rear it would instantly cause a panic among the infantry, and so inevitably lose the day for us. The behavior of Capt. HAMILTON at this critical period of the battle is worthy of special note, and I sincerely believe that it was owing mainly to his persistent efforts that the portion of our line at his battery was not broken and scattered in confusion. He had not only his pieces to command, but his infantry supports to keep from leaving the field. It was in the midst of this destructive fire of the enemy, and while Capt. HAMILTON was urging the infantry to maintain their line, and at the same time giving orders to his battery, he was struck in the arm by a musket ball, and shortly after was again hit in the thigh. To add to the misfortune, all of his officers—four in number—were wounded. Col. CHARLES W. FRIBLEY, of the Eighth United States, was also mortally wounded on this portion of the field. He did not cease for a moment to encourage and rally his men, and by his gallant behavior proved himself to be an officer of no ordinary merit. Capt. HAMILTON kept his pieces at work until it was evident it would be sure loss to fire another round, and then gave orders to withdraw them. Horses were attached to only four pieces; the horses to the other two had been shot, consequently two guns fell into possession of the enemy. On the right of HAMILTON the Seventh Connecticut and the Seventh New-Hampshire were doing fearful execution. The Seventh Connecticut especially were standing their ground with marked valor. Every volley from their guns told splendidly on the rebel line. But between the two forces a wide difference existed—the rebels outnumbered us five to one. This crushing superiority gave the two regiments little chance for victory. After losing one-fourth of their number they were compelled to retire to the rear. At the same moment Col. BARTON'S Brigade, the Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth and One Hundred and Fifteenth New-York Regiments took the field, coming up in line en echelon. On the right was ELDER'S Battery, and on the left LANGDON'S and one section of the Third Rhode Island. The enemy had four pieces of artillery. On a railroad car he had mounted a heavy gun, supposed to be a 32-pounder, and with this he kept up a regular fire, but not destructive, as the shells passed over the heads of our men. There can be no doubt concerning the fighting qualities of BARTON'S Brigade. On this occasion they fought like tigers, but the same difficulty which opposed HAWLEY'S Brigade, presented itself to them, viz., the mass of the enemy.

The last regiments to enter the field were the First North Carolina, and Fifty-fourth Massachusetts, (colored,) of MONTGOMERY'S Brigade. They took a bold position at the front, and maintained their ground with commendable pertinacity. For three and a half successive hours did our brave regiments combat the enemy before them. The instances of personal daring that occurred in the meantime are numerous. Never before did the troops in this department have such an opportunity for displaying their valor, and on no previous occasion have they exhibited such a high degree of bravery. If the enemy had presented an equal force with our own, or even if it had been only double, no doubt could have been felt as to the final result of the contest. As it was the enemy resisted us with a force in point of numbers three times that of our own, which, taken together with the circumstance of the long and tedious march and the ill condition of the men, it would be hardly reasonable to suppose that success would be on our side. The effect of our fire, both of musketry and artillery, was fearful. At every discharge, down went a body of rebels. The gallant ELDER on the right and the dashing LANGDON on the left, made an impression on the rebel lines that will go far to offset the misfortune that ultimately overtook us. The fight was by no means a trivial encounter; it was a battle hotly contested, fought at close range, face to face and foot to foot. The commanding officers of the various regiments are entitled to unlimited credit for the heroic manner in which they led their men. At the acme of the battle, Col. SAMMONS, of the One Hundred and Fifteenth New-York, was struck in the foot, and was in consequence compelled to leave the field. His horse was shot from under him. Col. MOORE, of the Forty-seventh New-York, was also wounded, a ball striking his hand and passing out at the elbow. Col. BARTON had his coat pierced in several places and his horse shot. Col. HENRY had three horses shot, but himself escaped in a most miraculous manner. Provost-Marshal-General HALL had a horse shot from under him, and as for himself, no one would believe it would be possible for him to again pass through what he did on that day, and come out unscathed. Lieut. JACKSON, of Gen. SEYMOUR'S Staff, had two horses shot. If space would permit, I might fill a column of just such narrow escapes.

Gen. SEYMOUR was not away from the ground for an instant. At first on the right and then on the left, he seemed to be everywhere at one and the same moment. His aim was apparently to be in the thickest of the fight, and at the front of his troops.

At 5 P. M. the fire slackened on both sides; on ours, in consequence of the ammunition giving out, and on the enemy's, because we did not press him. A demonstration by the rebels to capture LANGDON'S Battery, at about the middle stage of the fight, was prevented by LANGDON, who poured into their line a quick and deadly fire. But in coming from the field he was obliged to leave to the enemy three of his pieces, not because the enemy charged upon them, but for the reason that he did not have horses to draw them off. At 5½ o'clock the heavy firing had ceased. The cessation was simultaneous on both sides. We held our ground till 7 o'clock, and then the order came from Gen. SEYMOUR to gradually

RETIRE.

The retreat was conducted leisurely and orderly. There was no confusion, no panic, nothing that indicated hurry. Col. HENRY, with his cavalry, brought up the rear. At 3 o'clock Sunday morning, our troops were at Barber's. The enemy followed closely but did not press. A few of their cavalry only kept well up to the rear of HENRY'S column. At Barber's, our men rested till 9 A. M., and then again took up the line of retreat, reaching Baldwin at about 3 P. M. They halted here a short time, and then went on toward Jacksonville, arriving at the camping ground, six miles out, Monday afternoon. On the way down many of the poor fellows could hardly drag one foot after the other.

OUR LOSS.

To estimate our loss is indeed an unpleasant task, but, nevertheless, one which must be performed in giving the record of the day's events. In killed, wounded, and missing, I give the number one thousand two hundred. All our killed and the severely wounded, that is, those who were unable to walk from the field unassisted, fell into the hands of the enemy. Last night, at 12 o'clock, about five hundred of the wounded had been conveyed to Jacksonville. Their names are embraced in the list of casualties which I present in another portion of this letter. At that time about 200 wounded were on the way, but did not reach Jacksonville in season for me to get their names so as to send on by this mail. The surgeons estimate 300 wounded to have been left on the field. The proportion of 200 killed to 1,000 wounded is that usually allowed. This would make the aggregate of 12,000.

We also left on the field five guns, and not a small number of small arms. The road from Barber's to Baldwin was strewn with guns, knapsacks and blankets.

At a station on the railroad between Barber's and Baldwin we burnt a building containing 2,000 barrels of turpentine. This we might have got away several days previous had transportation been accessible. We also burnt a trestle bridge on the railroad not far from Barber's. At Baldwin we burnt a large supply of commissary stores, knapsacks and officers' baggage. The wagons used to transport these things to the army were filled on the retreat with the wounded.

THE ENEMY'S LOSS.

It is customary to make the enemy's list of casualties equal to that of our own. In this instance I believe I can follow the rule, and be not very far from the truth. When we consider that the enemy had but four or five, and we sixteen pieces of artillery, in position, it is not difficult to believe we inflicted upon him quite as much injury as he upon us. The fact that he did not follow rapidly is significant of the immense damage he sustained.

OUR WOUNDED,

that is, those of them who were not left on the field, were all taken to Jacksonville Sunday and Monday morning. We had seven cars running on the railroad. During Sunday morning and afternoon, these cars were drawn by horses. At night, a locomotive that the engineers had been trying to get in order for some days was at last got in running condition, at just the time its use was no longer required. I do not consider the engineer at fault that the locomotive was not ready before, for it was an old concern, made up of half a dozen similar old refuse picked up at Fernandina when our troops arrived there two years ago. It was out of order, and the engineers did not have the requisite material to repair it. Monday morning, 264 of the wounded left on the steamer Cosmopolitan for Beaufort. Among the number was Lieut.-Col. REED, of the First North Carolina (colored) Regiment, who was in a critical condition. In the absence of Col. BECKER, who had gone North with dispatches, Lieut.-Col. REED took command of the regiment, and well and nobly did he act his part. The wounded at Jacksonville receive the best of attention from the surgeons in charge. Dr. WM. A. SMITH, of the Forty-seventh New-York is Post Director, assisted by Dr. WEEKS. Some of the Surgeons remained on the field of battle to treat our wounded there. Mr. DAY, of the Sanitary Commission, and Rev. Mr. TAYLOR, of the Christian Commission, also remained behind on the field. These two gentlemen were at Jacksonville when the news of the battle was telegraphed Saturday night. They immediately obtained a car, which they filled with medical and sanitary stores, and sent it forward to the front. At 11 at night they followed the car, walking, before they overtook it, a distance of ten miles. The Cosmopolitan will return to Jacksonville, in a day or two, to take off the remaining wounded.

THE EFFECT

which our defeat will have upon the citizens of Florida is to be lamented, for they had been assured we came to protect them. When our army was retreating, I noticed several families passing on with the column, preferring to come with us rather than remain in the rebel lines. The fact that the enemy sent so large a force into Florida to oppose us, is proof conclusive of the high value he places on the State as a source of supply. During the action on Saturday, a train of cars filled with rebels came down from Lake City and landed just above the battle-field.

A Savannah paper of a late date states that our troops have been repulsed at Lake City, and it will be Gen. BEAUREGARD'S fault if we are not driven out of the State. Gen. MERCY, of the Savannah forces, is said to have been in command of the rebels on Saturday.

Our troops are now in the vicinity of Jacksonville. They are at work fortifying the place, and no apprehension is entertained that the enemy will attack them there. Three or four gunboats lie in the stream ready to do service when occasion offers.

Gen. SEYMOUR is at Jacksonville.

Gen. GILLMORE was at Hilton Head when the fight occurred. No one was more surprised than he to learn that an advance movement in the direction of Lake City was contemplated. He took measures to prevent the fight, but the party empowered with authority did not, in consequence of the heavy sea and high wind, reach Jacksonville in time. The reverse we have suffered in the interior will by no means decide who shall have possession of Florida. Neither does it terminate our operations in the State. Before many days, the enemy will be convinced of our determination to act in that direction, and he may possibly meet a foe whose strength he little suspects.

HILTON HEAD, S. C., Friday, Feb. 26, 1864.

The army transport Dictator, with about 250 wounded, arrived Wednesday night from Jacksonville. All of the wounded, except the most critical cases, are doing well. I send by the steamer that conveys this dispatch an additional list of casualties, which, in connection with the list I previously sent, nearly completes the roll.

Another steamer came in from Jacksonville early this morning. She brings the intelligence that the rebels are concentrating a very large force in the vicinity of Baldwin, with a view, undoubtedly, to attack us in the position we now hold.

Our present position is in front of Jacksonville, six or eight miles from that place.

The men are at work night and day, erecting and completing fortifications; and all other necessary measures have been taken to resist the aggressive movements of the enemy.

Reinforcements are hastening forward, and no apprehensions need be felt as to the ability of our troops, not only to hold their ground, but to administer to the rebels the severest thrashing they have yet suffered, should they open an attack.

The repulse given our troops at Olustee does not in the least dispirit them. They ask to be led again to meet the enemy, and pledge all that is good and holy to annihilate the foe or sacrifice their lives instead. The indomitable will thus exhibited by our brave fellows cannot fail to insure them success.

The public may rely upon it, Gen. GILLMORE has not the least intention to abandon the Florida enterprise. He will certainly do what he set out to accomplish, no matter how numerous or stupendous the obstacles against which he has to contend.

Gen. SEYMOUR is with his command in front of Jacksonville. WHIT.

Particulars of the Engagement from an Officer of Hamilton's Battery.

BOSTON, Monday, Feb. 29.

The Providence Journal prints a letter, from Lieut. EDDY, of the Third Rhode Island Battery, who participated in the late battle in Florida. The letter is dated on board the hospital steamer Cosmopolitan, Port Royal Harbor, Feb. 22, and says: On Thursday morning the 18th inst., we left our camp at Jacksonville in light marching order with ten days' rations. We marched all day, and as the roads were bad, we only made sixteen miles, when we halted for the night. Friday morning, the 19th, we started early in the morning, marched all day, made seventeen miles, and stopped over night at a small place called Barber's. On Saturday morning, 20th, at 7 o'clock, we started once more for a place called Lake City, thirty-six miles distant, which if we had succeeded in occupying, would stop supplies being sent to the Western armies of the enemy. We marched 18 miles, when we met the enemy. We skirmished with them for the next four miles, when we found that they were in force and had formed their line of battle. Our columns were at once deployed into line and our advance was soon sharply engaged. HAMILTON'S Battery was then ordered forward. Four pieces of the battery, including my section, were placed in position within 250 yards of the rebel lines under a severe fire of musketry. We went in with 4 pieces, 50 horses, 82 men and 4 officers, viz.: Capt. H., Lieut. MYRICK, Lieut. DODGE and myself. In 20 minutes we lost 40 men, 40 horses, 2 pieces and four officers, when we managed to get off with what little there was left. It was our misfortune to have for supports a negro regiment, who by running caused us to lose our pieces. The fight lasted three hours, when, finding his small army so much cut up, the General ordered a retreat. We returned to Jacksonvill, fifty-eight miles distant, and reached there last night at 12 o'clock.

We had five thousand men engaged on our side, and lost twelve hundred, as near as I can learn.

The enemy had 15,000 men opposed to us, and of course whipped us badly. Capt. HAMILTON is wounded in the left arm severely, and in the hip. Lieut. MYRICK is wounded in the left foot badly, and probably will lose some of his toes. Lieut. DODGE is wounded in the left arm, not badly. I am wounded in the right leg about three inches above the ankle joint, not badly. All of us officers had our horses shot under us. We are now on board of this steamer, bound for Beaufort, where all the wounded will be landed, except us four officers. We return to Hilton Head tomorrow. The battery remained at Jacksonville, which, I think, our forces will find difficult to hold, as the enemy were following us closely. Taking everything together, we have done pretty sharp work. In ninety hours we have marched one hundred and ten miles, fought a battle of three hours' duration, got badly whipped, and what there is left of our little army is back again where we started from."

LIST OF CASUALTIES.

MONDAY, Feb. 29—P. M.

The Weekly Averages of the Banks of the City of New-York on Saturday, Feb. 27, 1864, present in the aggregate the following changes from the previous exhibit of Feb. 20:

Increase in Loans	$6,625,270
Decrease in Specie	222,231
Decrease in Circulation	433
Increase in Undrawn Deposits	6,860,863

Including the Clearing-house operations of the week, which show the inter-exchanges between the Banks, and including also the Sub-Treasury balance at the close of the week, the following is the general comparison with the previous exhibit, and also with the movement this time last season:

	Feb. 20, 1863.	Feb. 27, 1864.	Feb. 20, 1864.
Capital	$69,128,000	$69,722,508	$69,722,508
Loans	179,958,842	174,928,205	168,302,935
Specie	20,512,256	22,381,687	22,543,918
Circulation	8,739,969	5,908,394	5,908,394
Gross Deposits	218,102,476	250,782,110	233,628,674
Exchanges	44,169,831	95,907,051	85,814,568
Undrawn	173,913,625	154,875,059	148,014,106
Sub-Treasury	7,309,975	35,410,777	37,250,602

There is another large gain on the Deposit line at Bank, and the increase in Loans and Discounts (principally upon Government paper,) is made more nearly to correspond than for the previous two weeks. There is a very small decrease in the Specie average, considering that the Customs and Export demands of the week were about two and a quarter millions. The aggregate stock of Gold and Silver in Bank and in the Treasury Office, makes a gain on last Monday of $1,384,225, as follows:

	Monday, Feb. 22.	Monday, Feb. 29.
In Bank	$22,523,918	$22,301,687
Treasury Office	19,068,565	20,675,021
Total	$41,592,483	$42,976,708

The Market for Money opens easy this week at 5@6 ℘ cent. We hear that the Associated Banks, (or a majority of the Clearing House,) have resolved against the increase of Certificates of Deposit in the Treasury, as a medium for clearing balances, but will, in lieu, issue Loan Certificates of their own on the pledge of 6 ℘ cent. Legal Tender Treasury Notes. The difference is not material to the Money market, and of no importance whatever to the Treasury. The Customs Duties to-day amount to $321,000; making nearly seven and a half millions in Gold from this source, at the port of New-York alone, for the month of February.

The Railway and Miscellaneous Shares at the Stock Exchange opened with a good degree of firmness this morning. The exception was Erie Common, which fell off 1@1¼ ℘ cent. after the first sales at the Board. This weakness in the leading Stock, against the course of the general market, was a mystery until after the adjournment, when it transpired that a Director of the Board (himself an active speculator on the street,) and his friends were the heavy sellers for a downward turn on a resolution said to have been adopted by the Erie Board a few days since to convert the Long Dock mortgage into the Common Stock, at the option of the holders. The same party were short sellers some weeks ago upon the calculation that when it became generally known that the Fourth and Fifth mortgages of the Road were, by resolution of the Erie Board, convertible, the stock would go down on the apprehension of a pressure of new shares. But this calculation was defeated by the firmness in the general market and the special confidence felt in the productive value of the Erie property. The immediate effect was simply to advance the bidding for the Fourth and Fifth Bonds, and the sequel to the raid upon the Stock was an advance of 10@12 ℘ cent. The practical effect upon the interest of the Company, had the whole $7,000,000 of these Bonds been converted, would have been to improve the real value of the Stock by relieving it of this sum of mortgage incumbrance. The conversions, however, thus far scarcely reach one-tenth of seven millions. The removal of the Long Dock mortgage would also be a practical advantage to the Stock. It was made for $3,000,000, of which about two-thirds have been used. The Bonds are a first lien upon the Long Dock property with the guarantee of the Erie Company. They were worth 110@112 ℘ cent. before the alleged order of conversion; they will now go higher on this order, and the holders, in all probability, decline, as most of the holders of the Fourth and Fifth Eries have declined to avail of the privilege until the Common Stock goes much higher than the relative market value of other leading Railways.

At the Second Board the market for the Railways generally showed increased firmness, and Erie Shares reacted upward ¼@¾ per cent. from the lowest sales in the forenoon, although the Bear interest in the Stock are confident of an early increase of new certificates by conversion. The Miscellaneous Shares are higher to-day on Canton, Central Coal, Pacific Mail and Mariposa, but slightly lower on Cumberland. The Government Stocks are steady, and the price of Gold and rates of Exchange on London much the same as at the close on Saturday. Gold 159@159⅛; London 173¼@173½ per cent.

At 4 o'clock the following prices were made in comparison with Saturday night, the market leaving off steady:

Our financial and mercantile community were greatly shocked this morning to learn that Mr. THOMAS TILESTON died suddenly on Sunday night. Mr. TILESTON had nearly reached his three score and ten years. He was among the oldest of our New-York merchants, though a native of Massachusetts. He founded, with Mr. PAUL SPOFFORD, at an early day, after his removal to this City, the eminently successful commission and shipping house of SPOFFORD & TILESTON, and was for many years President of the Phenix Bank, and for nearly ten years Chairman of the Clearing House Association of City Banks. As a public-spirited citizen, sound merchant, and kind-hearted and urbane gentleman, he was widely known and warmly appreciated.

Mr. E. W. TALMAN has resigned his position as Cashier of the Continental Bank, to join his son's firm of LIVERMORE & TALMAN. Mr. C. F. TIMPSON has been appointed his successor.

MESSRS. FISK & HATCH, No. 38 Wall-street, give notice that they will attend to the conversion of United States 7-30 Treasury Notes into the 6 ℘ cent. Bonds of 1881, on favorable terms.

An advertisement appears elsewhere of a meeting to take initiatory steps for the establishment of the Tenth National Bank, capital one million. The commissioners are Joseph Lamson, President United States Trust Company, A. A. Low, S. D. Babcock, George S. Robbins, Francis Skiddy, Samuel Sloan, Henry A. Smythe. The bank is to be located on Broadway, in the neighborhood of the New-York Hospital.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR FORAGE.

CHIEF QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON DEPOT, Dec. 8, 1863.

SEALED PROPOSALS are invited by the undersigned for supplying the United States Quartermaster's Department, at Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., Alexandria and Fort Monroe, Va., or either of these places, with Hay, Corn, Oats and Straw.

Bids will be received for the delivery of 5,000 bushels of corn or oats, and 50 tons of hay or straw, and upward.

Bidders must state at which of the above-named points they propose to make deliveries, and the rates at which they will make deliveries thereat, the quantity of each article proposed to be delivered, the time when said deliveries shall be commenced, and when to be completed.

The price must be written out in words on the bids.

Corn to be put up in good stout sacks, of about two bushels each. Oats in like sacks, of about three bushels each. The sacks to be furnished without extra charge to the Government. The hay and straw to be securely baled.

The particular kind or description of oats, corn, hay or straw proposed to be delivered must be stated in the proposals.

All the articles offered under the bids herein invited, will be subject to a rigid inspection by the Government Inspector before being accepted.

Contracts will be awarded from time to time to the lowest responsible bidder, as the interest of the Government may require, and payment will be made when the whole amount contracted for shall have been delivered and accepted.

The bidder will be required to accompany his proposal with a guarantee, signed by two responsible persons, that in case his bid is accepted, he or they will, within ten days thereafter, execute the contract for the same, with good and sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the amount of the contract, to furnish the forage proposed in conformity to the terms of advertisement dated Dec. 8, 1863, under which the bid was made, and, in case he shall fail to enter into a contract as aforesaid, we guarantee to make good the difference between the offer of said bidder and the next lowest responsible bidder, or the person to whom the contract may be awarded.

Given under our hands and seals this —— day of ——, 186—.

Witness, [Seal.] [Seal.]

I hereby certify that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the above-named guarantors are good and sufficient as sureties for the amount for which they offer to be security.

To be certified by the United States District-Attorney Collector of Customs, or any other officer under the United States Government, or responsible person known to this office.

All proposals received under this advertisement will be opened and examined at this office on Wednesday and Saturday of each week, at 12 M. Bidders respectfully invited to be present, at the opening of bids if they desire.

D. H. RUCKER,
Brigadier-General and Quartermaster.

PROPOSALS FOR ICE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23, 1864.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 o'clock M., TUESDAY, March 15, 1864, for the supply of beer quality of Ice to the General Hospitals at New-Orleans, La., Baton Rouge, La., Key West, Fla., and Pensacola, Fla., and such points on the coast of Texas as may be occupied as hospitals during the year 1864.

Proposals will state price per hundred pounds delivered daily, as required by Surgeons in charge of Hospitals in the vicinity of above points. Also, price per ton of two thousand pounds, carefully stored in well-constructed ice-houses at the above points, subject to inspection and measurement by the United States.

The following is the estimated quantity required at each point, but the proposals must include all additional quantity required during the year at the same rates:

New-Orleans	600 tons.
Pensacola	60 tons.
Key West	60 tons.
Baton Rouge	200 tons.

The above proposals must be accompanied by a guarantee that the party or parties are responsible, certified to by a United States District Attorney or Clerk of District Court.

The contract will be awarded to the lowest responsible party or parties, who will be duly notified by mail or otherwise that their bid is accepted; and they will immediately be required to enter into contract under bonds to the amount of five thousand dollars.

Bonds to be properly certified to.

An oath of allegiance to the United States Government must also accompany the proposals.

Proposals must be addressed to HENRY JOHNSON, M. S. K. and Purveyor, U. S. A., Washington, D. C., marked "Proposals for Ice."

The Post-office address of the parties proposing must be distinctly written upon the proposals.

Bidders may be present in person when the bids are opened.

The department reserves the right to reject all unsuitable bids.

HENRY JOHNSON,
M. S. K. and Purveyor U. S. A.,
Washington, D. C.

PROPOSALS FOR RATIONS.

UNITED STATES MUSTERING AND DISBURSING OFFICE,
No. 562 Broadway,
ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 23, 1864.

Sealed proposals (in duplicate) will be received at this office until 3 P. M. on TUESDAY, March 1, 1864, for supplying cooked rations to fifty, more or less, United States troops, at the Provost-Marshal's rendezvous at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Three meals constitute a complete ration, and the ration to consist of the following articles, to wit:

Three-fourths of a pound of pork or bacon, or one and one-fourth pounds of fresh or salt beef; twenty-two ounces of bread or flour, or one pound of hard bread, or one and one-fourth pounds of corn meal; and at the rate to every one hundred rations, of eight quarts of beans or peas, and ten pounds of rice or hominy; ten pounds of green coffee, or eight pounds of roasted or ground coffee, or one and one-half pounds of tea; fifteen pounds of sugar; four quarts of vinegar; one and one-fourth pounds of adamantine or star candles; four pounds of soap; two quarts of salt; four ounces of pepper; thirty pounds of potatoes, when practicable, and one quart of molasses.

When beans, peas, rice, hominy, or potatoes cannot be issued in the proportions given above, an equivalent in value shall be issued in some other proper food.

Desiccated potatoes or desiccated mixed vegetables, at the rate per one hundred rations of one hundred and fifty ounces of the former, or one hundred ounces of the latter, may be substituted for beans, peas, rice, hominy, or fresh potatoes, when these articles cannot be issued, or they may be issued at the foregoing rate twice per week, in lieu of beans or peas, or in lieu of rice or hominy, upon the requisition of the officer commanding.

Fresh beef to be issued at least twice in each week, and oftener, if required by the officer commanding.

Every article specified as forming part of the ration must be of the very best quality.

Each bid must have a printed copy of this advertisement pasted at its head. Written contracts to be made with adequate bonds. The names of two sufficient sureties, with place of residence, to be given with the proposals.

The undersigned, to whom proposals will be addressed, reserves the right of rejecting all bids deemed unreasonable.

J. McL. HILDT, Captain U. S. A.,
M. and D. Officer and A. C. S.

PROPOSALS FOR $500,000 VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS' FAMILY AID FUND—BONDS No. EIGHT.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's office until TUESDAY, March 1, 1864, at 2 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened, for the purchase at not less than their par value, of the whole, or any part of the sum of five hundred thousand dollars of the "Volunteer Soldiers' Family Aid Fund, Bonds No. 8," authorized by an ordinance of the Corporation, passed Feb. 9, 1864, and an act of the Legislature of the State of New-York, passed March 6, 1863.

The said bonds will bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of May and November each year, and the principal will be redeemed Nov. 1, 1872.

The proposals will state the amount of bonds desired, and the price per one hundred dollars thereof, and the persons whose proposals are accepted, will be required to deposit with the Chamberlain of the City, within five days after the opening of the bids, the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the Chamberlain for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive bonds for equal amounts of the par value thereof, bearing interest from the dates of payments. Each proposition should be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for Volunteer Soldiers' Family Aid Fund, Bonds No. 8," and inclosed in a second envelope, addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, if the interests of the Corporation require it.

MATTHEW T. BRENNAN, Comptroller.

PROPOSALS FOR ROOFING FELT AND PITCH.

CHIEF QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE.
DEPOT OF WASHINGTON,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11, 1864.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until TUESDAY, March 1, 1864, at 12 o'clock M., for delivering in the City of Washington, D. C., the following amounts of Roofing Felt and Pitch, viz.:

One hundred and eight (108) tons of Roofing Felt.

Eight hundred (800) barrels of Pitch, or Roofing Cement.

The particular kind or description of the above articles must be stated in the proposal, and bidders will be required to furnish samples of the articles they propose to deliver.

One-fourth (¼) of the quantity of each article will be required to be delivered in thirty (30) days from the date of the contract, one-fourth (¼) in sixty (60) days therefrom, and the balance in ninety (90) days therefrom.

Each barrel of Pitch or Roofing Cement must contain not less than three hundred (300) pounds, and delivered in good sound barrels, said barrels to be furnished free of cost to the Government.

The articles offered by the successful bidders will be subjected to a rigid inspection before being accepted by an inspector, appointed by the Government.

PROPOSALS.

The price must be written out in words on the bid, as must also the full name and Post-office address of the bidder.

Proposals from disloyal parties will not be considered, and an oath of allegiance must accompany each proposition.

Proposals must be addressed to Brig.-Gen. D. H. RUCKER, Chief Quartermaster, Depot of Washington, Washington, D. C., and should be plainly marked "Proposals for Roofing, Felt and Pitch.

GUARANTEE.

The bidder will be required to accompany his proposition with a guarantee, signed by two responsible persons, that, in case his bid is accepted, he will at once execute the contract for the same, with good and sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the amount of the contract, to deliver the articles proposed in conformity with the terms of this advertisement; and in case the said bidder shall fail to enter into the contract, they to make good the difference between the offer of said bidder and the next lowest responsible bidder, or the person to whom the contract may be awarded.

Given under our hands and seals this —— day of ——, 186—.

Witness: [Seal.] [Seal.]

To this guarantee must be appended the official certificate above-mentioned.

The right to reject any or all bids that may be deemed too high is reserved by the Depot Quartermaster, as well as the right to select from each bid such articles at the price therein named, as is required by the Government.

Brigadier-General and Chief Quartermaster,
Depot Washington.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICE LIGHTHOUSE BOARD, Feb. 15, 1864.

Sealed Proposals will be received at this office until 1 o'clock P. M. on Saturday, the 19th day of March, 1864, for supplying the Lighthouse Establishment with fifteen thousand gallons of the best quality pure Winter strained lard oil, and thirty thousand gallons of the best quality pure Winter strained sperm oil, to be divided into four lots, and to be delivered at the times undermentioned, alongside of the Government supply-vessels, or at the warehouse or other place of deposit, to be designated by the Inspecting Officer or other authorized agent of the Lighthouse Board, in strong, tight, well-made casks, suitable for shipping, in good order, of an average capacity each of from eighty to one hundred gallons.

The lard oil will be delivered at Boston, Mass., for special inspection.

Any one of the lots of sperm oil, or all of them, may be delivered at New-York, New-London, Sag Harbor, Boston, New-Bedford, Edgartown, or Nantucket, at the option of the bidders. The place of delivery must be distinctly stated in the bids, and will be embraced in the contracts.

The four lots will be delivered as follows, viz.:

Lot No. 1.—Ten thousand (10,000) gallons sperm oil on the 15th day of April, 1864, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Lot No. 2.—Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons lard oil on the 1st day of May, 1864, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Lot No. 3.—Ten thousand (10,000) gallons sperm oil on the 1st day of June, 1864, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Lot No. 4.—Ten thousand (10,000) gallons sperm oil on the 1st day of August, 1864, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

No part of the oil proposed for and to be embraced in the contracts under this advertisement will be accepted, received, or paid for, until it shall have been proved to the entire satisfaction of the person or persons charged with its examination, test, and inspection, to be of the best quality pure Winter strained or bagged oil, and free from mixture with other or inferior oils and adulterations.

The usual means for determining the character and quality of the oil will be employed, viz.: specific gravity, burning the amount of residuum, and any other proper tests to arrive at correct conclusions that may be deemed necessary.

The casks must be gauged, under the direction and personal supervision of the inspecting officer, by a Custom-house or other legally authorized and sworn gauger, according to the United States standard, and must be marked and accepted before they are removed from the cellar or warehouse of the contractor. The temperature of the oil will be accurately noted, and the measurements reduced to the standard temperature of 60° Fahrenheit by tables prepared for the purpose.

Proposals will be received and considered for each lot separately, or for all of the lots, at the option of the bidder; but no bid will be considered for a less quantity than that specified as one lot, to be delivered at the time and place. Each bid must state expidicity the rate per gallon, in writing, the number of the lot or lots bid for, and the time and place of delivery, conforming to this advertisement.

Bids submitted by different members of the same firm or copartnership will not be considered.

The Lighthouse Board, under the authority of the department, reserves the right to reject any bid, although it may be the lowest, for other considerations than the price.

No bid will be considered for any other kinds or descriptions of oils than those specifically called for in this advertisement.

A bond, with security to the satisfaction of the department, in a penalty equal to one-fourth of the amount of each contract made under these proposals, will be required of each contractor, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract, to be executed within ten days after the acceptance of the bid.

Every offer must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by one or more responsible persons, and known to the department as such, or certified by a United States District Judge, Attorney, Navy Agent, Collector of the Customs, to the effect that, if the bid or bids be accepted, the bidder or bidders will duly execute a contract in good faith, according to the provisions and terms of this advertisement, within ten days after acceptance; and that, in case the said party or parties offering shall fail to enter into the contract as aforesaid, he or they guaranty to make good the difference between the offer of the said party or parties and the next lowest bidder. All bids must be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for oil for lighthouses," and then placed in another envelope, and directed, prepaid, to the Secretary of the Lighthouse Board, Washington City.

All bids will be opened publicly, at the hour and on the day specified.

Payments will be made for the several lots of oil within thirty days after they shall have been received by the United States.

By order of the Lighthouse Board.

W. B. SHUBRICK, Chairman.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

We print this morning our correspondence from the Department of the South, received via Fortress Monroe, detailing the recent lamentable reverse to our arms in Florida. The painful interest which invests the affair has been enhanced doubtless by Gen. GILLMORE'S inexplicable proceeding of stopping the mails, and those to whom the past few days of torturing suspense have seemed more than weeks in duration, will read the accounts with eagerness and relief. The reports show that our brave fellows were led into a trap where they suddenly met an overwhelming force, and, there being no possible door of escape, they were mowed down by the dozen. The list of casualties foots up twelve hundred. The fighting was heroic beyond expression, and as the thrilling details are read many a sigh will be uttered that so much valor resulted in discomfiture. Our forces are reported to be intrenching themselves six miles from Jacksonville.

Richmond papers up to and including Feb. 29 were received at Fortress Monroe yesterday. They contain various telegraphic dispatches of war matters, but nothing very definite. The rebels admit a severe loss of both officers and men in the late cavalry fights with SMITH and GRIERSON'S forces. SHERMAN'S advance is said to have reached Pearly Pear—wherever that may be—probably somewhere in the State of Alabama. Dispatches from Atlanta mention the fact of GRANT'S late reconnoissance, but the details are meagre. Likewise the news from the fight in Florida. The rebel Gen. FINNEGAN was reported to be pursuing our forces. The rebels had lost heavily in the fight. LONGSTREET is reported to have withdrawn to a point not prudent to mention.

The great cavalry expedition of Gens. SMITH and GRIERSON, has returned to its starting point, near Memphis, having been unsuccessful in forming a junction with Gen. SHERMAN, in consequence of the concentration of the enemy's forces in superior numbers. Our troops penetrated to West Point, Miss., a distance of 130 miles, where all the rebel cavalry force was formed ready to impede our progress. Considerable fighting ensued, the rebels endeavoring first to cut our column in two, and then to cut it off, but without success. In these engagements the rebels lost very heavily. Our troops finally fell back, destroying the railroad as they retreated. Although the expedition failed in its main object there were yet some very important results. It destroyed over one million bushels of rebel corn, a large amount of cotton and provisions, captured 1,500 mules and 300 prisoners, and brought in 2,000 negroes.

The Senate yesterday confirmed the nomination of Major-Gen. GRANT to a Major-General's rank in the regular army, and Gens. MEADE, SHERMAN, McPHERSON and THOMAS were confirmed in the rank of Brigadier-Generals, also in the regular army. Brigadier-Generals PLEASANTON and THOMAS were confirmed as Major-Generals in the volunteer service.

A telegram from Cairo says, upon authority o prisoners captured by Gen. SMITH, that Col. FORREST, brother of the rebel General of that name, was killed in a skirmish with our forces.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. GRIMES, of Iowa, introduced a bill for the protection of overland emigrants, which appropriates $40,000 to be expended on the roads to Colorado and Idaho. Mr. SUMNER, from the Select Committee on Freedmen and Slavery, presented a long report on the Fugitive Slave Law, accompanied by a bill repealing all laws for the rendition of fugitive slaves to their masters. The report is very long, and reviews the relation of Slavery to the Constitution at length. Mr. WILSON, from the Military Committee, reported the House bill extending bounties to April 1, and stated that the Government was enlisting men at the rate of 2,000 per day, which was faster than the Government could take care of them. Discussion ensued, and the bill was finally recommitted to the Military Committee. The disagreement of the Conference Committee on the whisky tax was made the special order for to-day at one o'clock. Mr. SHERMAN asked the Senate to instruct the committee to report a tax of twenty cents per gallon on whisky on hand July 1. The bill equalizing the pay of soldiers was taken up, and after discussion, without progress, recommitted to the Committee on Military Affairs. The Senate went into Executive Session, and adjourned.

In the House yesterday, Mr. STEVENS asked leave to introduce a resolution instructing the Committee on the Conduct of the War to inquire into the operation of the various acts and military orders relating to trade intercourse with the rebellious States. This was at first objected to, but subsequently Mr. GARFIELD submitted a similar resolution, which was agreed to. The bill reported by the Committee of Ways and Means, to authorize the transfer of $200,000,000 from the $900,000,000 ten-forty loan into a five-forty loan, was called up, and after some slight amendments, was passed. This bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to also issue $17,000,000 additional five-twenties to supply the overplus of subscriptions on the day the loan was exhausted. Mr. BLAIR submitted a resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Navy for all the correspondence and reports concerning the operations of the navy before Charleston up to the time Admiral DUPONT was relieved. The resolution was finally adopted. Mr. LONG, of Ohio, offered a resolution asking the President to appoint PIERCE, FILLMORE, EWING and others as Peace Commissioners, to treat with the rebels. The resolution was summarily choked, it receiving only 22 votes in the affirmative. Mr. SCHENCK then offered a series of highly patriotic and loyal resolutions concerning the rebellion, the support of the Government, &c., which were all adopted unanimously, the Democrats all voting in the affirmative, amid great laughter. Mr. PENDLETON, of Ohio, then offered a resolution to the effect that the arrest and trial of VALLANDIGHAM was illegal, arbitrary, &c., which was disagreed to, by 75 yeas, against 84 nays. The House then adjourned.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, yesterday, a report was presented by Mr. ANGEL, authorizing the Erie Railway Company to issue $5,000,000 in stock to complete the road. The following bills were advanced to a third reading; authorizing the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank, of Rochester to reduce the capital stock; to incorporate the Staten Island Savings Bank.

In the Assembly, bills were noticed by Mr. REED to establish a Metropolitan Market Commission. By Mr. J. L. SMITH, to incorporate the Corn Exchange Warehouse Company. By Mr. LYONS, for amending the act relative to wharves in New-York. Bills were introduced by Mr. NEWTON, requiring all railroads to make annual reports to the State Engineer. By Mr. BRYANT, authorizing the New-York Supervisors to raise money. By Mr. MCNEIL, authorizing the Brooklyn Central and Jamaica Railroad Company to use a dummy engine on a portion of their road.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Board of Councilmen met yesterday, but transacted but little business of general importance. A resolution was adopted to grant the Managers of the Metropolitan Sanitary Fair the sidewalk, for the length of three hundred feet, fronting the Palace Garden grounds, for a temporary structure, with a sidewalk ten feet wide around it for the passage of pedestrians—this permission to exist only while the great Fair shall last; and the Croton Board were directed to establish hydrants in the Fair buildings. The resolution granting the use of the Chamber of the Board to the Superior Court, Special Term, for the month of March, was called up by Mr. GROSS, and was adopted. A resolution was adopted directing the Comptroller to make a new issue of Central Park Improvement Fund stock, to the amount of $300,000. Messrs. JACQUES and GROSS advocated economy and a lesser sum, believing $150,000 or so would answer for this year; but their opposition was unavailing, the vote standing 14 to 10. The Board changed the hour of meeting for 4 o'clock P. M., and adjourned to Thursday.

The Printers Association gave a grand dinner, last evening, at the St. Nicholas Hotel. The proprietors of nearly all the printing-houses of this City, and a number of proprietors of printing-houses from Boston, were present. Mr. CHARLES A. ALVORD, presided. Speeches were made by Mr. WRIGHT from Boston, Mr. DE WINNE, ISAAC J. OLIVER, and a number of other gentlemen. The dinner was a great success.

The venerable THOMAS TILESTON, Esq., President of the Phœnix Bank, Wall-street, died very suddenly yesterday morning at his residence, No. 2 East Fourteenth-street, of disease of the heart. He was in apparent good health, and in attendance to business on Saturday, and made some friendly visits as late as the afternoon. He was one of our oldest merchants, and one of the foremost men in banking circles in Wall-street.

The crew of the ship Victory, twenty-two in number, were arraigned before the United States Commissioners, and on examination, all discharged. The Commissioner fully justified their conduct. This is the vessel on which the killing of one passenger by the male cook, and gross outrages upon the others by the officers, were charged. The mate has thus far eluded arrest.

The Grand Jury of the United States Circuit Court have found indictments against Col. DE FORREST, late of the Fifth New-York Volunteers, for presenting false claims against and defrauding the Government.

Prices of cattle ruled high at the Forty-fourth-street Yards Monday, in consequence of a very light supply, viz.: 2,750 head, with little prospect of much increase before the market closes. There was an advance of ½c. to ¾c. ₩ lb. from the prices of last week, and stock sold off too rapidly for all the butchers to get a chance at them. Most of the sales from 12c. to 15c. ₩ lb. for the meat, though numbers will prove 16c. when dressed, as sellers called the cattle heavier than they really were.

Transactions in Flour yesterday were quite limited; prices were depressed. A moderate demand prevailed for Wheat and Oats, at drooping rates. Speculators bought mixed Western Corn freely, at a further material advance. The inquiry for Provisions was less active; Pork was tending downward. Cotton was quiet and declining. Sugar, Tea and Whisky were more sought after. The freight market was firmer but not active.

The price of Gold and rate of Exchange on London were the same as on Saturday night. Money 5@6 ₩ cent. Government Stocks in good request. The Railway Shares generally steady at the close, the chief interest of the day running on Erie, against which there was a formidable Bear movement.

Will the Cabinet be Broken?

Men who consider public affairs a mere personal struggle are very positive that the present Cabinet can't stand much longer. President LINCOLN and Secretary CHASE are both named for the next Presidency; it is calculated that, therefore, there must be competition between them; and if competition, antagonism; and if antagonism, a smash.

This is all absurd. It is imputing to either Mr. LINCOLN or Mr. CHASE an incredible measure of folly. Nothing can be conceived more ridiculous than that Mr. LINCOLN should drive Mr. CHASE from the Treasury, because there are men who want to make Mr. CHASE President; or that Mr. CHASE should desert his post because there are signs that the people prefer to give Mr. LINCOLN a second term. Of course, there is an ambition pertaining to the next Presidency, which both may honorably cherish. It must be presumed that Mr. LINCOLN would be gratified by such a signal mark of popular approval of his Administration as his reëlection would afford; and that he also would value the opportunity to carry through to their triumphant issue the great policies and measures which he has shaped for the reconstruction of the Union. It must also be presumed that Mr. CHASE, who has shown such great ability in his management of a high department of the Government, may aspire to the management of the Government itself, as a sphere of action that would enable him still more to illustrate his name. All this, in both cases, is natural and right. The very highest elements of manhood prompt it. But this high-souled ambition has nothing in common with the sordid rivalship that would prevent these two public men from continuing to work conjointly, as they now do, for the public good.

Even were it possible that either of the two could cherish this wretched jealousy, it could never be profitably gratified. In the bestowment of the Presidential office the people are sovereign. More than ever is it true in this great crisis, when public affairs press upon every man's attention with such peculiar force. He who goes into the next Presidential chair will go there solely because the popular judgment has determined him to be the fittest man for the place. It is idle for any aspirant to attempt to control this popular will, either by anything he may do for himself, or by anything his backers may do for him. All management, all effort to better his position, is worse than thrown away.

The people are discerning enough to understand that he who, in times like these, can abandon himself to such selfish aims, he who can stoop to the low acts of the political schemer, is not the man qualified to bear any high part in rescuing a nation from ruin. Never, in the history of the country, have the people cared less for either politicians or parties than they do now. Never have they had more earnest convictions of their own upon public questions, or been more strongly determined that the public interests shall be paramount to every other consideration. Knowing as they do that the very life of the country is at stake, this could not be otherwise. They comprehend full well the importance of the next Presidency, and they will dispose of it, not as they are played upon by politicians, but simply and solely as their sovereign sense dictates.

There are those who profess to see an indelicacy in Mr. CHASE'S remaining under a chief whom, it is possible, he may supersede. The notion is not very complimentary to Mr. CHASE. It implies that he is capable of using his position in the Administration to injure it, and that he cannot discharge his appropriate official duties with singleness of purpose. If Mr. CHASE should voluntarily retire from the Cabinet, it would be equivalent to an admission that he could reasonably be suspected. If Mr. LINCOLN should ask him to resign, it would be taken as a personal imputation of that kind. Mr. LINCOLN is as far from so discrediting his Secretary, as the Secretary himself is from deserving any such poor opinion of his good faith. The fact that Mr. LINCOLN called Mr. CHASE to his cabinet, and has retained him there for three years, is the best proof that he has absolute confidence in his fidelity and honor; and the fact that Mr. CHASE has won such general approbation for the management of his most difficult department is a guarantee that he will not either misuse or abandon his position for any selfish object. Indeed there could be no surer way, on the part of either of these public servants, of alienating the popular respect and confidence each now enjoys than an act that, would indicate that personal advancement was his main concern. It is their thorough public devotion, as well as their great practical ability, that makes them both trusted. The times imperatively require such devotion. No man can possibly reach the next Presidency without it.

All these speculations of a separation of the Secretary from the President, because the names of both may be presented to the June Convention, have not a particle of foundation either in reason or in fact. Both of these high officials will continue to apply themselves faithfully to the public service, perfectly content to leave their political future in the hands of the people where it belongs. We say this in the same interest for the good repute of both. We have freely avowed that in our opinion the public advantage would be best promoted by continuing Mr. LINCOLN at the head of the Government for another term. It is safer, we believe, to make no change. Yet we repel all idea that Mr. CHASE is any more capable than Mr. LINCOLN himself of provoking a Cabinet rupture for any personal ends; or that they are, in any discreditable sense, rivals for popular favor. In spite of all the mean predictions of mean minds, they will continue to work together with patriotic devotion and in mutual confidence.

The British Ministry and the Opposition.

The symptoms of weakness on the part of the Ministry in England are increasing every day; and it is quite evident that nothing but the want of leaders and want of policy on the part of the Opposition prevents a crisis that would result in the ousting of the Palmerston-Russell Cabinet. Everybody is dissatisfied with the position held by England in her relations with foreign Powers, and her internal condition, though the Custom-house returns convey an appearance of prosperity, is by no means satisfactory. She has never recovered the prestige lost by the Crimean war; and every opportunity that has since offered itself of doing so has been suffered to pass, in obedience to considerations which no English Minister in these days dares to overlook.

Non-intervention is cheap and safe, but Englishmen are beginning to discover that they must choose between peace and economy, and predominance abroad. They cannot have both, and they are by no means pleased by the revelation. The refusal to interfere in the Italian quarrel on one side or other, followed by a lame and impotent attempt to interfere in the Polish quarrel, has, it is now certain, had the effect of convincing the German Powers that England will not interfere in any quarrel for any cause whatever, and they have acted on the assumption in the onslaught on Denmark. The position occupied by Lord RUSSELL in this matter is extremely embarrassing. "All over Europe," as the Spectator says, "the nations are sneering at the value of England's friendship and the worthlessness of England's menace." England persuaded, almost coerced, the Danes into the Treaty of 1852; she advised them to evacuate Holstein, and they consented; and she further advised the revocation of the Constitution, including the Duchies in the Kingdom, and actually guaranteed to Austria and Prussia that if they suspended the march of their armies, this revocation should be incorporated in the new treaty, and thus made a part of the public law of Europe. The Danes assented to all this, and yet the Germans marched, have occupied the Duchies, and England does not move.

The public in England are accordingly becoming very restive, and there are strong signs of a reaction against the policy of non-interference which has ever since 1815 been avowedly a favorite one with all classes; and as the present Ministry happens just now to be the representative of it, it seems pretty certain that any failure to arrange the Danish imbroglio, in a manner that will save the honor of the Danes, will lead to their defeat on a hostile motion, and consequently a dissolution of Parliament, unless they should rush into war. A bold policy they are, however, hardly likely to adopt, even to save their places. Both PALMERSTON and RUSSELL are too old to be any longer either enterprising or audacious. The reason Earl RUSSELL gave for not taking up the cause of Poland with more vigor was, that "at his time of life he could not undertake the responsibility of conducting so critical a policy." And nobody who reads what PALMERSTON was even fifteen years ago, and sees what he is now, but must feel that age has begun to make itself felt in his brain as well as in his limbs.

If they escape overthrow, it will be due rather to the fact that there is apparently nobody anxious to take their places for the purpose of pursuing a more ambitious policy. That portion of the public which is most dissatisfied with the inglorious position at present occupied by the country, are probably those who have given least attention to the cost of greater activity. The difficulties in the way of a bold and meddlesome foreign policy are very great. It is impossible for a Power like England to interfere in continental affairs only a little. She cannot have "a war," to use Lord STANLEY'S phrase, "with limited liability." She cannot be a special partner in a concern for righting wrongs, and protecting weakness. The relations with Continental Powers with each other are so complicated and so ramified, that if she interferes at all she must throw her whole weight into the scale; and the whole weight of a first-class Power is, in our day, as wars are now conducted, no trifling matter. To make any serious impression in a continental struggle, 50,000 men are now needed where 10,000 would have sufficed forty years ago, and the expense of equipments, arms and supplies have increased in the same ratio. Anything but a short war, in short, means, to any European country, at this moment, bankruptcy. There is probably none of them which has half the endurance, either moral or material, of England; but even she could not to-day put forth her full powers without increasing tenfold the misery of her population, and a large portion of it is already intensely miserable. The condition of her manufactures and agriculture is now such that any disturbance of the general tranquillity produces a social catastrophe of the first order. She can, doubtless, pass through this without any diminution of her vitality, but not without such suffering as no statesman who now has a chance of power cares to face.

Material Progress of the Country in Spite of the War.

At the outbreak of the rebellion we were the first to relieve the general apprehension as to the financial strength of the loyal States, by demonstrating the proposition that the revolting ones would carry away with them hardly an appreciable portion of the wealth of the country, for the reason that wealth must always be in ratio to the industry of a people in the degree that it is assisted by the contrivances of science and art. Muscular action has long since ceased to be the chief instrument in production. But the use of labor-saving machinery is in direct ratio to the intelligence of the workman. It has been the traditional policy of the Slave States to blindfold labor; of the Free, to enlighten it. Hence the infinite superiority of the latter—a superiority which has been almost wholly gained within the last twenty years by the progress they have made in the mechanic arts.

Time soon made more than good all we essayed to prove. So far from finding the streets of our great cities overgrown with grass, they were never more thronged with busy crowds and with merchandise. In the midst of the most gigantic civil war the world has yet seen, the people of the North were never better fed, better sheltered or better clothed. Prices are high, but the means of purchasing come proportionately easy. None of the ills which irresolute friends and open enemies predicted have fallen upon us. Plenty not only reigns, but never before were our people making such vast strides in material prosperity. War, instead of repressing our energies, has only served to expand and quicken them. With a million of our most efficient laboring population in the army, the productive capacity of the country was never so great as at the present moment. A single steam engine, the creation of a day, almost does the work of a whole regiment of soldiers. So rapid is our progress in mechanics that our means of production increase in five fold greater ratio than our population. If one doubles in twenty-five years, the other does in five. Our strength grows with our burdens, as did that of England in its great contest with the first NAPOLEON, to the utter overthrow of his collossal power, and to become the admiration and astonishment of the world.

Of this advance in material prosperity the West affords the most striking illustrations. Amid the din of war, railways on a gigantic scale are being projected and executed. There is hardly an abatement in the progress of these works. Western cities were never increasing so rapidly in wealth and population. The grand march of our people across the continent will, the present year, be far more imposing than ever before, for numbers, and for the means they bear with them. The new discoveries in Colorado, Nevada and Idaho throw the mineral wealth of California fairly into the shade. In two years more the production of gold and silver in the United States will be doubled. If the Southern market has been lost to the West, a new and more valuable one has been opened. The Mississippi Valley no longer looks to the East as the sole consumer of its surplus. It will soon have to feed rich and populous States lying within the Rocky Mountains, and whose sole product, for generations almost, will be the precious metals. It is hardly possible to estimate the importance to the Western States of the newly-discovered gold-fields in the heart of the continent.

Another cause of the rapid progress and prosperity of the Western States is the applicability of its soil to labor-saving implements. The soil of the great valley is not only homogeneous, but so friable that nearly the whole work on a farm, from the dropping of the seed to the harvesting and threshing of the crop, is done by machinery, propelled either by steam or horse power. Man has risen from the position of laborer to that of the superintendence of animal or natural power. With such agencies as these, ten years advance a community as far as one hundred did in the olden time. The most productive portion of the line of the Illinois Central Railroad was constructed hardly ten years ago, over a boundless prairie, in traversing which a compass was as necessary as upon midocean. As far as production or inhabitants was concerned, the land was a desert; without the railroad, it would have remained a desert to the present time; with it, the prairie is, in Summer, a boundless cultivated field. Land that ten years ago was valueless, is now worth for agriculture all the way from $10 to $100 the acre. The road has not only created a traffic equal to that of a first-class work in the more densely populated of the Eastern States, but has rendered its vast domain so valuable that its receipts from this source alone equal $150,000 net per month. The sales of one-half of this domain have already nearly equaled the entire spare capital of the company, and the balance bids fair to equal the entire cost of the road.

We refer to this example from its very greatness, and because it is the best possible illustration of the progress of the West, and of the law or method of this progress—the application of scientific discoveries of the last thirty years to the economies of life. These discoveries have accomplished for the West, and for the whole country, what the inventions of WATT, BOULTON and ARKWRIGHT did for England in the period of her great peril. It assures us that our prosperity is not fictitious, but real. The past ten years has doubled the wealth of our people; the next ten will double the present wealth; that of the West must increase in far greater ratio The Southern markets will soon be reopened, when the food-producing districts of the interior will have vast markets on every side, the demand from which will give a new impulse to the productive industries of this region, famed above all others in position, in climate and in soil.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 29.

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE HOUSATONIC.

The Navy Department has received the following from Lieut. T. J. HIGGINSON, lately commanding the steamer Housatonic:

"About 8:45 P. M. of the 17th inst., the officer of the deck, Acting Master J. K. CROSBY, discovered something in the water about 100 yards from the vessel, moving toward the ship. It had the appearance of a plank moving on the water, and came directly toward the ship. The time when it was first seen till it was close alongside was about two minutes. The torpedo struck the Housatonic forward of the mizzen mast, on the starboard side, in a line with the magazine. The after pivot gun being pivoted to port, they were unable to bring a gun to bear upon the torpedo. About one minute after she was close alongside the explosion took place, the Housatonic sinking stern first, heading to port as she sunk. Most of the crew clung to the rigging, and a boat was dispatched to the Canandaigua, which vessel gallantly came to their assistance, and all were rescued but the following named officers and men: Ensign E. C. HAZELTINE; Captain's Clerk C. O. MUZZY; Quartermaster JOHN WILLIAMS; landsman, THEODORE PARKER; second-class fireman, JOHN WALSH, who are missing and supposed to be drowned."

CAPTURES OF PRIZES.

The Navy Department has received information of the following captures on the 11th inst. The United States schooner Queen captured the schooner Louisa, of Nassau, N. P. Three miles north by west of the Brazos River Pass, running for the mouth of that river. In reply to the hail of the Queen, she replied that she was from Havana, bound somewhere along the coast of Texas, and did not know of what her cargo consisted, but upon boarding her she gave up to the Queen a British certificate of registery and her shipping articles, remarking at the time that she surrendered as a lawful prize to the Queen. Upon a party examination, the cargo was found to consist of power, Enfield rifles, salt, sugar and whisky.

On the 1st inst. a boat expedition from the United States bark, lying in St. Andrew's Sound, Georgia, commanded by Acting Master GILLESPIE, captured a sloop laden with seventy-two bales of Upland cotton and two of Sea Island cotton. They also secured the picket, consisting of a sergeant and six men of the Fourth Georgia Cavalry, and six civilians; five were taken aboard the sloop and one ashore. She also brought away the families of Mr. SASSERRE and Mr. DANGAIX, consisting of their wives and eight children.

On the night of the 30th of December, the United States gunboat Kennebec, off Mobile bar, discovered a sail running out of Mobile Bay; chase was immediately given, but she was lost sight of in the darkness, but was seen again the following morning, attempting to escape from the Kennebec; she was brought to by a shot and hauled down her colors; she was found to be the steamer Grey Jacket, bound from Mobile to Havana, with a cargo of cotton, rosin and turpentine. She had twenty-three passengers, who were transferred to the Colorado.

OVERLAND EMIGRATION.

The bill introduced into the Senate to-day, by Mr. GRIMES, appropriates $40,000 for the protection of emigrants crossing the Plains, $10,000 of which is to be expended upon the route between Fort Abercrombie and Fort Benton, and $10,000 on the route to Idallo by the Niobrarah River.

ADVENTURES OF ONE OF THE ESCAPED OFFICERS.

A letter from the Army of the Potomac informs us that First Lieut. SCUDAMORE, one of the officers who escaped from Libby Prison with Col. STREIGHT and party, came into our lines last night, having been on the way nineteen days. He had intended to proceed by way of Gordonsville toward the Ohio River, thinking his chances of getting away in that direction better than by the Peninsula, as he felt certain of being captured had he gone the latter way. After traveling twenty-five miles his knees failed him, and he was forced to lie in a mud-hole, as he terms it, for nine days. A negro took care of him and became his companion, and he resumed his journey. At another time he was obliged to lie concealed three days. He finally reached the Rapidan on Saturday night, and crossed, passing within a few paces of the rebel pickets. Lieut. SCUDAMORE says he saw no troops near Richmond; nor did he find any adult white male inhabitants on his route through the country. He met only women, children, and negroes. He represents LEE'S army as pretty strong; but no signs of activity were visible. He was captured near Rome, Ga., and had been ten months in the Libby Prison.

GEN. GRANT A MAJOR-GENERAL IN THE REGULAR ARMY—GENS. MEADE, SHERMAN AND M'PHERSON BRIGADIER-GENERALS.

The Senate to-day, in executive session, confirmed the nomination of Maj.-Gen. ULYSSES S. GRANT, of the volunteers, as Major-General in the regular army, with his commission dating from July 4, 1863, to fill an original vacancy, and the following were confirmed as Brigadier-Generals in the regular army: Maj.-Gen. GEORGE G. MEADE, of the volunteers, commission dating from July 3, 1863, vice SUMNER, deceased. Maj.-Gen. William T. Sherman, of the Volunteers dating from July 4, 1863, to fill an original vacancy. Maj.-Gen. James B. McPherson, of the Volunteers, dating from August, 1863, vice Harney, retired. Maj.-Gen. George H. Thomas, of the Volunteers, dating from October, 1863, vice Anderson retired. Brig.-Gen. Alfred Pleasonton and Brig.-Gen. Gouverneur K. COL. STREIGHT AT WASHINGTON.

The Navy Department has received the following report:

U. S. STEAMSHIP ELLA,
WASHINGTON, Feb. 29, 1864.

SIR: I have the honor to inform the department that I arrived here to-day with Col. A. D. STREIGHT, Fifty-first Indiana Volunteers; Maj. B. B. MCDONALD, One Hundred and First Ohio Volunteers; Capt. W. W. SCHARCH, Fifty-first Indiana Vols., and First Lieut. JOHN STERLING, Thirtieth Indiana Volunteers, who made their escape from Libby Prison, Richmond, on the 9th inst, and reached Blackiston's Island, in the Potomac River, where I found them yesterday. I am, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,
FOXHALL A. PARKER.
Commander, Commanding the Potomac Flotilla.

Hon. GIDEON WELLES, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.

THE LIEUTENANT-GENERALSHIP.

The bill reviving the grade of Lieutenant-General was signed by the presiding officer of each House of Congress to-day. It has yet to be presented to the President for his approval before it becomes a law. Therefore the announcement that GRANT has been appointed to that office is premature.

PROMOTION.

Major JOHN C. SHERBURNE, Assistant-Adjutant-General and Chief of Gen. MARTINDALE'S Staff, has been commissioned, by the Governor of the State of New-York, Colonel of the cavalry regiment known as Scott's Nine Hundred.

POSTPONEMENT OF THE DRAFT DENIED.

The Star says: "We have authority for saying that there is no truth in the statement telegraphed to the Philadelphia papers, to the effect that Provost Marshal Gen. FRY would to-day issue an order postponing the draft until the 1st of April.

FROM EAST TENNESSEE.

Retreat of Longstreet—Our Forces in Pursuit Have Reached Morristown.

LOUISVILLE, Monday, Feb. 29.

Information from Cumberland Gap, deemed reliable, says our forces have reached Morristown.

Major BERRY, of the Eleventh Tennessee Cavalry arrived from the vicinity of Rogersville, reports that LONGSTREET'S forces were going East at double quick time on each side of Holston River.

Welcome to Hon. Geo. Thompson.

RECEPTION AT COOPER INSTITUTE—SPEECHES BY GEN. FREMONT, HON. GEO. THOMPSON AND REV. DR. TYNG.

There was a numerous and very respectable meeting at Cooper Institute last evening, to do honor to and hear the remarks of Hon Geo. THOMPSON, the champion of Emancipation in England. He and Major-Gen. FREMONT, who presided, were enthusiastically welcomed. Gen. FREMONT introduced Mr. THOMPSON as the representative of liberal Democracy in England, and the tried friend of America, and said he could scarcely be expected to realize the change which had taken place in the public sentiment of this country since his last sojourn among us, on the question of Slavery.

Mr. THOMPSON prefaced his address by a thankful allusion to this wonderful contrast between the reception he now met with, and that which he received when he first arrived on our shores in 1834, and subsequently in 1850, when, not only could he not obtain a hearing, but the hotel proprietors did not feel safe in giving him lodging; and because he would not expose his friends—men and women of whom America then was not worthy—to have their dwellings destroyed he was obliged to leave the City. Now he came again, and he beheld this mighty and magnificent nation in the throes of another revolution—a higher and holier one than that of 1776. That was for independence; this was for universal liberty. That raised the white man to a sovereign; this lifted the negro to a man. (Applause.) He assured the Chairman that his name was a household word among all the friends of liberty and humanity in England. There were millions of hearts there who would be glad to see him elevated by the suffrages of the people into the seat of the Chief Magistracy of this Republic. (Enthusiastic applause.) Had it been so, it would have been well for America. There would have been no traitors in the Cabinet, no felonious abstraction of Indian bonds, no transfer of arms from the arsenals of Northern cities to be placed in the hands of Southern traitors. He believed he would have worked the miracle of St. Patrick in Ireland, and have banished all kinds of snakes from the country, whether they be rattlesnakes or copperheads. (Laughter.) To these latter reptiles, the speaker administered a scathing rebuke. He (Gen. FREMONT) was known in England as the daring Pathfinder. Once and again amidst the snows of the Rocky Mountains, he found the path to the region of gold; and then, amidst the rockier mountains of rebellion, in Missouri, he found the path there—the right path, the safe path, the necessary path, the plain path, the path of justice, of humanity, of right, of duty, and it would have been the path of glory; and the Chief Executive of this mighty Republic had followed the Pathfinder. (Cheers.) He would have emancipated a few; the President had proclaimed liberty to three millions. This act he characterized as the chief glory of the Administration. As it was said of NAPOLEON, that he would go down to posterity with the code which bears his name in his hand, so it may be said of ABRAHAM LINCOLN, that he would descend to future ages holding in his right hand this immortal proclamation. Mr. T. spoke of the want of sympathy which our cause met with in England, in the first stage of the contest, as due to a misconception of the true aim of our struggle, and the great ignorance among the English people of our institutions; but when they came to see that Union and Emancipation meant the same thing, then our cause began to meet with a hearty support, and to-day, while Southern agents and sympathisers could not obtain a favorable hearing in any large assembly of the people. The great mass of the working and middle classes took a strong and firm interest on the side of the North. He exhibited some placards which our friends in England had extensively posted in the manufacturing districts, exposing the evils of Slavery and the sophistries of the Confederates and their sympathizers. Everywhere the name of LINCOLN called up cheers. He called upon the people to carry the proclamation into effect—to seize this, at once the hour of their trial and opportunity; to loose the bands of wickedness, undo the heavy burdens, break every yoke, and let the oppressed go free.

Rev. Dr. TYNG was loudly called for, and responded by saying that vain was proclamations, and vain was everything we could do for the slave, unless we took the broad and thorough ground that he is a man, and should be treated as a man; and a citizen, and should be treated as a citizen.

Mr. THEODORE TILTON, who was also called up, said that after hearing what they had heard from their English friend, they might take the lines which Lord Chatham, quoting from PRIOR, said once of America, and say them now of England:

"Be to her faults a little blind,
Be to her virtues very kind." (Applause.)

He told the audience to go home and tell their children that they had heard in one night two orators, one of whom had taught eloquence to WENDELL PHILLIPS, and the other, statesmanship to ABRAHAM LINCOLN. (Applause.)

Death of Mr. Paul R. George.

BOSTON, Monday, Feb. 29.

Mr. PAUL R. GEORGE, formerly Navy Agent in New-York under JOHN TYLER'S Administration, and well known as a Democratic politician of New-Hampshire, died on Saturday.

The Shooting Case at Saratoga.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, Friday, Feb. 26.

Lieut. JOHN W. HUDSON, who was arrested for shooting a man here on the 12th inst., as heretofore telegraphed, has been committed for murder, after examination before the Police Magistrate. The Coroner's Jury did not think the facts sufficient to find a verdict of willful murder, and Lieut. Hudson's counsel is so confident that the affair was nothing more than justifiable homicide, that he has applied to Justice BOCKEE, of the Supreme Court, and will have the subject reviewed before him with a view of having Lieut. HUDSON admitted to bail.

LAW REPORTS.

The Husted Case.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Justice Barnard.

The Husted case came up again in chambers yesterday morning. His Honor said that the order in relation to the custody of the child should stand as it was until the decision in the divorce suit pending between the parties.

United States Circuit Court—Feb. 29.

Before Judge Shipman.

A new term of this court was opened this morning, for the transaction of criminal and equity business.

The names of the jurymen who had been summoned were called, and an order was entered directing all those who failed to answer to show cause on Monday next why they should not be punished for non-attendance.

Judge SHIPMAN announced that, as he was called upon to go into the District Court this week to attend to business there, the jury would not be needed till Monday next, till which time they were discharged, and the court adjourned.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH CURED.

No. 420 SIXTH-AV., NEW-YORK, Dec. 2, 1863.

I was deaf for several years, and hearing of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I was induced to place myself under his care, and I am now happy to state that my hearing was entirely restored after a short treatment. I was also suffering from chronic catarrh, of which I was also cured by the skillful treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg. I do but justice to the Doctor in stating that in treating me he displayed that skill and knowledge which have already procured for him such a deserved reputation, and that the principles which direct his system of curing Deafness and Catarrh are such as to render success certain, in my opinion. Many months have passed since Dr. Von Eisenberg restored my hearing, and it continues as good as ever.

O. HOPKINS.

CATARRH CURED.

READ!

I have been suffering for a long time from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were constantly obstructed with a pouring fluid. That frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, often attended with a fullness of my throat, great soreness, and a continual dropping. Dr. Von Eisenberg has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I may, indeed, say that I feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg is as skillful as it is successful. It is in my opinion impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. Von Eisenberg's care, with a certainty of being speedily cured.

HARLEM, July 30, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

WILLIAM LIDDLE,

No. 136 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.

READ.

NEW-YORK, March 29, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

CHICAGO AND GREAT EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY,
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
FOR $2,000,000.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS OPENED WITH
Messrs. SCHUCHARDT & GEBHARD, Bankers,
No. 21 Nassau-st., New-York.

The Chicago and Great Eastern Railway Company now offer for sale one million one hundred thousand dollars of their first mortgage bonds, in sums of one thousand dollars each, maturing in thirty years, bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, payable in the City of New-York, on the first days of April and October, in each year.

These bonds are secured by a first and only Mortgage on the property, income and franchises of the Railway Company, executed to Frederick Schuchardt and Henry Morgan, of the City of New-York, Trustees.

The remaining nine hundred thousand dollars of the Bonds are in reserve, and remain in the hands of the said Trustees, for the purpose of being exchanged for the indebtedness of the Chicago and Cincinnati Railroad Company, running from La Crosse to Logansport; this effected, the $3,000,000 will form a first and only Mortgage on a line of road 110 miles in length, similar from Chicago to Logansport, where it connects with the Cincinnati and Chicago Air-line Railroad, forming the shortest line by 40 miles, between Chicago and Cincinnati, and by 20 miles the shortest line between Louisville and Chicago.

It will also open, in connection with roads now in operation, entirely new and very direct lines from Chicago to New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and all Eastern cities. The distance between Chicago and New-York by this route being shorter than by either of the existing lines via Dunkirk or Buffalo.

The road is now under contract, and the most strenuous efforts are being made to have it open for traffic during the Summer of 1864.

The interest on the Bonds maturing during the progress of the work has been provided for, and will remain on deposit with the Bankers of the Company, Messrs SCHUCHARDT & GEBHARD, No. 21 Nassau-st., to whom the Company refer for further particulars, and where subscription books for this loan have been opened.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27, 1864.
WHEREAS, BY SATISFACTORY EVIDENCE presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the Fourth National Bank of the City of New-York, in the County of New-York, and State of New-York, has been duly organized under and according to the requirements of the Act of Congress, entitled, "An Act to provide a national currency, secured by a pledge of United States stocks, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof," approved Feb. 25, 1863, and has complied with all the provisions of said act required to be complied with before commencing the business of banking.
Now, therefore, I, HUGH McCULLOCH, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the Fourth National Bank of the City of New-York, County of New-York, and State of New-York, is authorized to commence the business of banking under the act aforesaid.
In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 27th day of February, 1864.
(L. S.) (Signed,) HUGH McCULLOCH,
Comptroller of the Currency.

FOURTH NATIONAL BANK OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK, Nos. 27 and 29 PINE-ST.,

MEDICAL.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

DR. JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well-known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution. To married ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and although a powerful remedy, do not contain from calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps inclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills by return mail.

Sold by all druggists.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, long of time or change of diet. DR. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris, and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health call: it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this particular branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st. Call, send, or write.

SPEEDY RELIEF AND SURE CURE GUARANTEED.—Therefore, let no false delicacy prevent your immediate application to Dr. POWERS. Dr. POWERS, successfully consulted with Dr. WARD No. 50 Lispenard-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints, enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvellous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, speedily cured. The men to consult. Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world. Those who have used their previously are never without. Send or a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Pamphlets sent free. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by DR. WALTER D. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st., New-York.

DR. WATSON—AN OLD AND EXPERIenced Physician—may be consulted, as heretofore, on all diseases of the sexual organs, which he treats without the use of dangerous or nauseous drugs, and without hindrance from business. Dr. Watson's work, the "Cause and Cure," is illustrated throughout by anatomical plates, and drawings of disease, colored from the life, by which any one may learn the nature of his complaints and the mode of cure: a really practical and superior publication, invaluable especially to those who have debilitated themselves by early abuse, excess, or other causes. Price $1. Sold by MILLER & CO., Post-office 223½ Broadway, and by the Author, W. WATSON, M. D., 630 Broadway, next block above the Metropolitan Hotel. Consultations from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 160th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224, New-York City. For sale by B. RICHARDSON, at No 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and 18 Ann st.; FEDERHEN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

A PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE—Containing nearly 300 pages, and 150 fine plates engraving of the anatomy of the sexual organs, in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on self-abuse, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by the report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent, free of postage, to any address on receipt of 25 cents, in specie or postage-stamps. Address Dr. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden-lane, Albany, N. Y.

ADVICE TO MARRIED OR SINGLE LADIES, who require a safe and certain remedy for removing obstructions from whatever cause. Can rely upon the assistance of the CELEBRATED FRENCH FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS, price $1 a box, to restore the month'ly sickness in forty-eight hours, if of short standing; but obstinate cases, of long standing, may require No. 2, which are four degrees stronger than No. 1, and can never fail, are safe and healthy; price $5 a box. Sold at No. 334 Liberty-st.; sent by mail, with full instructions, by addressing Box 2,359 N. Y. Post-office.

DR. LEWIS' FEMALE MONTHLY TONIC is the only medicine married or single ladies can rely upon with safety and certainty for removing obstructions, suppressions, &c., from whatever cause. Ladies who desire to avail themselves of Dr LEWIS' valuable, certain and safe method of removing obstructions, suppressions, &c., from whatever cause, without the use of medicines, can do so at one interview. Ladies from a distance can return the same day. Excellent rooms fitted up for accommodation of ladies.

A. LEWIS, M. D., Physician for Females,
No. 7 Beach-st., between Varick and West Broadway.

HUNDREDS UPON HUNDREDS HAVE ruined their health by using medicines containing calomel, or its kindred poisons. The unfortunate can rely on Dr. HUNTER'S RED DROPS. They contain nothing injurious, and never fail in performing a speedy and permanent cure in all cases of private diseases, no matter how obstinate the case may be. They never have, and never will fail to cure. Can be obtained at No. 3 Division-st., New-York City. Eight separate rooms (a private entrance). Price $1, or sent to any address on receipt of price.

TO YOUNG MEN AND ALL MANKIND, who by indulging in secret habits, have contracted that soul, mind and body destroying vice, use Dr. RODMAN'S SPECIFIC DROPS. I would here state that this is no medicine gotten up to swindle and extort money from the unfortunate. I am pleased at all times to have the afflicted call at my office and give this a trial gratis. Come one and all, and receive the blessing. No. 4 Division-st., second block from the Bowery.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL INVIGORATORS, IN the form of Pills, will, in fifteen minutes after being taken, make the recipient as vigorous as if nature had never been retarded or debilitated. To the unmarried or single, in every physical exigency, this unrivaled medicine is earnestly recommended as a complete restorative of the nervous system where manhood has been impaired. Procured of DR. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st. Call or send for circulars.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in cases of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations. Purchase directly of Dr. POWERS, 50 Lispenard-st., N. Y.

DOCTOR HUNTER'S BOTANIC TINCture and Root Extract will restore manhood and the vigor of youth in five days. It will give health, strength and vigor to the most debilitated and shattered constitution. In a trial, with a medical book that treats of the evil effects of early abuse, loss of virile power and the effects of mercury. No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, since 1834. Eight rooms and a private entrance.

ON A NEW AND SUCCESSFUL METHOD FOR THE CURE OF SPERMATORRHŒA AND ITS RESULTS. Fourth Edition. Intended for Popular Use. By C. D. HAMMOND, M.D., formerly Professor of Special Anatomy in the Syracuse Medical College, N. Y. Price $1. WARNER, Publisher, No. 1 Vesey-st., N. Y.

The author may be consulted from 9 to 10, 1 to 3, and 7 to 9 evenings, at No. 31 East 27th-st.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, and they never disappoint the anxious patient. Office No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

DR. JOHNSON, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY be consulted with confidence on private diseases. Thirty years in one specialty enables him to guarantee speedy and permanent cures. N. B.—Those who may have been misled by quack advertisements, nostrums, &c., can call on Dr. J., with the certainty of a cure.

MRS. HAYWARD'S PULMON SYRUP—for catarrh, bronchitis and weak lungs, sold at No 111 Nassau-st., Brooklyn.

HUNDREDS ARE RUINED BEYOND redemption in this life by not calling on Dr. HUNTER at first: he has for thirty years confined his attention to the cure of a certain class, in which he has cured more than fifty thousand cases. His remedies are mild, and there is no interruption to business or change of diet. Dr. HUNTER is in constant attendance from 8 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night, at his old office, No. 3 Division-st. Charges moderate, and a cure guaranteed. Separate rooms, so that the patient sees no one but the Doctor himself. His wonderful medical discovery, Dr. Hunter's Red Drops, cures certain diseases, when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effect of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, and possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. This is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. It is a vial, with a medical work on Hunters Frailty, Nervous Debility, Early Indiscretion, and consultation gratis.

MEDICAL.

CAUTION TO LADIES, SINGLE AND MARRIED.—Every woman truly a lady, has an aversion to call on or upon a physician, in respect to complaints peculiar to her sex. Besides the shock to her delicacy in consulting persons, most of whom know nothing of her ailments, she incurs worse than useless expense in buying injurious pills, drops, potions, &c. No lady need call upon the numerous doctors with whom to uselessly spend her means, as "The Married Womans' Private Medical Companion," price $1, by A. M. Mauriceau, Professor of Diseases of Women, designed especially for the married or those about to be married, points out the mode of treatment to remove obstructions, irregularities, or her other ailments, as mother or wife, with the causes and symptoms, and what best to do. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale at No. 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and 18 Ann-st.; FEDERREN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR GOUT AND RHEUMATISM.

All sufferers from the above complaints, either of recent or long standing, are advised to use Blair's Gout and Rheumatic Pills. They can be relied upon as the most safe and effectual remedy ever offered to the public, and have been universally used in Europe for many years with the greatest success.

Prepared by PROUT & HARSANT, No. 229 Strand, London, England; and sold by their Agents, F. C. WELLS & CO., 115 Franklin-st., and by most Druggists.

Her Majesty's Commissioners have authorized the name and address of "Thomas Prout, No. 229 Strand, London," to be impressed upon the Government stamp affixed to each box of the genuine medicine.

EDWARD H. DIXON, M. D., EDITOR OF the SCALPEL, attends exclusively to operative surgery and the more obscure diseases of the pelvic viscera, hernia, hemorrhoids, varicocele and fistula. No. 42 5th-av, Officehours from 8 to 9, 1 to 3, and 7 to 9 evenings.

GROCERIES & PROVISIONS.

THOMAS R. AGNEW, WHO IS FAMED for his energy and enterprise as the grocer and tea and coffee dealer of this City, has just opened an extensive wholesale department of his business at No. 263 Greenwich-st., right adjoining his retail store. Both these extensive establishments will be conducted exclusively on the cash principle, and everybody who wishes to save money and buy for cash, either wholesale or retail, every description of teas, sugars, flour, fish, syrups, molasses, butter, cheese, lard, hams, coffees, starch, soap, &c., &c., &c., should at once repair as above. All goods warranted as represented, or money returned and expenses paid. Mr. Agnew's experience and large cash capital, which he can control to the extent of half a million of dollars, will enable him to compete successfully with any house or houses in New-York, and we predict that this new wholesale department will be a complete success, as his other store has been, and still continues to be.
All orders from the country should be accompanied with the cash, or paid for by some house in the City.
All goods delivered free to railroads and steamboats. Address Nos. 260 and 263 Greenwich-st., and Nos. 87 and 89 Murray-st.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 29.

CHANGES IN THE ENROLLMENT LAW.

Mr. CHANDLER, of Michigan, (Union,) presented a joint resolution of the Legislature of Michigan, asking changes in the enrollment law. Referred to the Military Committee.

A UNIFORM AMBULANCE SYSTEM.

Mr. CHANDLER presented a lengthy petition for an uniform ambulance corps. Referred.

CONCERNING LUNATICS.

Mr. TEN EYCK, of New-Jersey, (Union,) reported a bill to enable the guardians of lunatics in the States to act in the District of Columbia. Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Mr. LANE, of Kansas, (Union,) introduced the joint resolutions of the Kansas Legislature, asking for information in reference to certain school lands in Kansas.

PARKERSBURGH A PORT OF ENTRY.

Mr. CHANDLER, of Michigan, (Union,) moved to take up the Senate bill to make Parkersburgh, Va., a port of entry, and it was passed.

PROTECTION OF OVERLAND EMIGRATION.

Mr. GRIMES, of Ohio, (Union,) introduced a bill for the protection of overland emigration to the Pacific, which was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

REPEAL OF THE FUGITIVE SLAVE LAW.

Mr. SUMNER, of Massachusetts, (Union,) presented a report from the Select Committee on Slavery and Freedmen on the Fugitive Slave Law, accompanied by a bill repealing all laws for the rendition of fugitive slaves to their so-called masters.

Laid over and ordered to be printed.

SENATOR SUMNER'S REPORT.

The report is a very voluminous document, devoted to the injustice, unconstitutionality and general immorality of both those laws. It regards these laws as parts of the system of Slavery, and as therefore to be got rid of as speedily as possible. It criticises very closely the language of that clause of the Constitution which relates to the subject, and endeavors to show that the framers of the Constitution never expected that it was to be rigidly and harshly enforced, but that it was inserted merely as a cypher. It gives a very detailed history of the passage of the law of 1850, and of the difficulties encountered in enforcing it. Mr. SUMNER says that the authors of this act are the persons and parties now engaged in rebellion, and that while it remains on the statute book the rebellion will derive support from their work. The following concluding paragraph states briefly and clearly the points which the report seeks to establish:

"A clause of the Constitution, contrary to all commanding rules of jurisprudence, has been interpreted to sanction the hunting of slaves; and the same clause, thus interpreted, has been declared, contrary to all the testimony of history, to have been an original compromise of the Constitution, and a corner-stone of the Union. On this clause, thus misinterpreted and thus misrepresented, an Act of Congress has been founded, which, even assuming that the clause is strictly applicable to fugitive slaves, is many times unconstitutional, but especially in three several particulars: (1,) as a usurpation by Congress of powers not granted by the Constitution; (2,) as a denial of trial by jury in a case of personal liberty, and a self at common law; (3,) as a concession of the case of personal liberty to the unaided judgment of a single petty magistrate, without any oath of office, constituting no part of the judicial power; appointed not by the President with the consent of the Senate, but by the court; holding his office, not during good behavior, but merely during the will of the court; and receiving, not a regular salary, but fees according to each individual case. But even if this act were strictly constitutional in all respects, yet, regarding it in its terrible consequences, and in its rebel authors, it is none the less offensive; for, from the beginning, it was a scourge to the African race, and a grievance to the whole country—a scandal abroad and a dead-weight upon the Union at home, while it was the arch contrivance of men who, at the time, were rebel at heart, and are now in open rebellion—devised as an insult to the free States, and as a badge of subjugation. Such a statute, thus utterly unconstitutional in every respect, and utterly mischievous in all its consequences and influences, while it is peculiarly obnoxious in its well-known authors, ought to be repealed without delay. If consistent with parliamentary usage, it ought to be torn from the volumes of the law, so that there should be no record of such an abuse and such a shame.

Unhappily, the statute must always remain in the pages of our history. But every day of delay in its repeal is hurtful to the national cause, and to the national name. Would you put down the rebellion? Would you uphold our fame abroad? Would you save the Constitution from outrage? Would you extinguish Slavery? Above all, would you follow the Constitution, and establish justice? Then repeal this statute at once."

THE EXTENSION OF BOUNTIES.

Mr. WILSON, of Massachusetts, (Union,) from the Military Committee, reported a bill extending bounties to April 1, as passed by the House. Mr. WILSON thought there was no doubt we were enlisting men more rapidly than we could provide for them. We were enlisting them at the rate of two thousand per day. If we had to make a draft, it would be a small one to fill the quota of five hundred thousand men. We had over three hundred thousand men already under this call.

Mr. FESSENDEN, of Maine, (Union,) objected to have a bill of such importance as this come before us without the recommendation of the Executive and the Departments, and if we would legislate without such sanction we should get ourselves into trouble. He moved that the bill be recommitted to the Military Committee.

Mr. SUMNER, of Ohio, (Union,) thought if the Secretary of War wished this extension of the time for the payment of bounties, he should say so in writing to us. He would oppose it without such an indorsement.

Mr. LANE, of Indiana, (Union,) concurred with Mr. SUMNER. If we strike out the three hundred dollar clause in the present law, it would secure men enough without impoverishing the country.

Mr. NESMITH, of Oregon, (Union,) opposed an extension of the time.

Mr. WILSON thought the bill should go to the Senate Finance Committee, but the Military Committee found it on their table this morning, and brought it before the Senate as it came from the House, with the clause extending the payment of bounties to April 1. It would incur an expenditure of thirty millions of dollars.

Mr. CLARK, of New-Hampshire, (Union,) thought the bill should be recommitted to the Military Committee.

The bill was recommitted to the Military Committee.

PRINTING OF THE SLAVERY REPORT.

On motion of Mr. CONNESS, of California, (Union,) resolved that 10,000 copies of the report of the Committee on Freedmen and Slavery, with the accompanying bill, are ordered to be printed for the use of the Senate.

Referred to the Printing Committee.

THE EQUALIZED PAY BILL.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the bill equalizing the pay of soldiers, the question being on the pending amendment of Mr. WILSON to insert the word "free" before the word "persons" on Mr. COLLAMER'S amendment.

Mr. FESSENDEN was opposed to the retroactive character of the bill; he was not willing to put his hands into the Treasury to pay these colored troops money they do not ask for. We are not in a condition to do this.

Mr. SUMNER replied to Mr. FESSENDEN, urging the justice of making the bill retroactive in the cases of the Massachusetts colored troops.

JUDICIAL EQUALITY.

Mr. SUMNER, from the Committee on Slavery and Freedmen, reported a bill to secure equality in the courts of the United States. Ordered to be printed.

THE TAX ON WHISKY.

Mr. SHERMAN, from the Conference Committee on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the Whisky Bill, reported a disagreement. Mr. SHERMAN said if the Senate would instruct its Committee to allow a tax of twenty cents per gallon on liquors on hand in July, the bill would not fail. He hoped this would be done. He should bring the subject up, and ask a separate vote.

The subject was made the special order for to-morrow at 1 o'clock.

THE EQUALIZED PAY BILL AGAIN.

The debate on the bill equalizing the pay of soldiers was resumed.

Mr. SUMNER continued his remarks in reply to Mr. FESSENDEN.

Mr. GRIMES, of Iowa, (Union,) hoped the bill would be recommitted and reported back in its original form, leaving all special hardships suffered for separate legislation.

Mr. WILSON would not oppose the recommitment of the bill, though he was beginning to despair of its passage. He believed that the cases of the South Carolina and Massachusetts and other colored troops should be provided for, and they would be, though the matter may be delayed. He believed, when he introduced the bill, there were only between thirty and forty thousand of such troops; he believed now we had a hundred thousand, and eighty new regiments are in process of formation. He thought when the bill was drawn that its retrospective character would only apply to some twenty regiments, and thought the bill could be improved by a recommittal.

The bill was recommitted.

The Senate then went into executive session at 3:15 P. M., and at 4 P. M. adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 29.

HOMESTEADS FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Mr. JULIAN, of Indiana, (Union,) introduced a bill to secure to persons in the military and naval service homesteads in confiscated and forfeited estates within insurrectionary districts.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

INCREASED PAY OF THE ARMY.

Mr. ROSS, of Illinois, (Dem.,) offered a resolution that, in consequence of increased expenses in living, and the depreciation of the value of the National currency, it is the opinion of this House that the compensation of officers and soldiers of the army and navy ought to be increased about thirty-three per cent., and that the Committee on Military Affairs be instructed to report at an early day a bill carrying out the views of the House as expressed by this resolution.

PAYMENT OF CUSTOMS IN LEGAL TENDER.

Mr. WILSON, of Iowa, (Union,) introduced a bill that each and every person now indebted, who or may become indebted to the United States, prior to the first day of July, 1865, on account of duties on imports, may discharge one-tenth of the amount of such indebtedness by payment in legal tender Treasury notes of the United States.

Also, a bill providing that the provision of the act of August, 1861, which authorizes a direct tax of twenty millions of dollars, shall be suspended until April, 1867.

Both bills were referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

TRADE INTERCOURSE WITH REBEL STATES.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, (Union,) asked leave to introduce a resolution that the Committee on the Conduct of the War be instructed to inquire and report upon the practical operation and result of the several acts of Congress touching commercial intercourse with the States declared to be in insurrection against the authority of the Government, and the regulations of the Treasury Department established by the Secretary and approved by the President of the United States on the 31st of March and the 11th of September, 1863—and of the military orders which have been made from time to time touching such commercial intercourse by Generals commanding departments, or other officers; also, to ascertain and report in what manner the acts, regulations and orders of the military have been executed, and especially whether frauds have been committed, or favoritism shown to individuals, districts or localities by any agent or others employed under said act, or by agents acting under the general regulations and orders, and that the committee inquire into all other matters touching all such points which affect the public interest, or character of any public servant.

Mr. BLAIR, of Missouri, (Union,) objected to the introduction of the resolution.

Mr. STEVENS moved a suspension of the rules, but the question was determined in the negative—74 against 47—not two-thirds.

At a subsequent stage of the proceedings, however, Mr. GARFIELD, of Ohio, (Union,) submitted a similar resolution, which was agreed to—yeas 73, nays 43 as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Alley, Allison, Ames, Anderson, Ashley Baldwin of Massachusetts, Baxter, Blair of West Virginia, Blow, Boutwell, Boyd, Brown of West Virginia, A. W. Clark, Cobb, Cole, Creswell, Davis of Maryland, Dawes, Dixon, Donnelly, Driggs, Dumont, Eckley, Eliot, Farnsworth, Garfield, Grinnell, Hall, Higby, Holman, Hooper, Hotchkiss, Hubbard of Iowa, Hubbard of Connecticut, Julian, Kelley, Kellogg of New-York, Loan, Lovejoy, McBride, McClurg, McIndoe, Miller of New-York, Morehead, Morrill, Morris of New-York, A. Myers, L. Myers, Norton, O'Neill of Pennsylvania, Patterson, Perham, Pike, Pomeroy, Price, Rice of Maine, Schenck, Scofield, Shannon, Sloan, Smith, Smithers, Spalding, Starr, Stebbins, Stevens, Thayer, Upson, Van Valkenburg, Washburne of Illinois, Washburne of Massachusetts, Williams, Wilson, Windom, Woodbridge.

NAYS—Messrs. J. C. Allen, Ancona, Blair of Missouri, Bliss, Brooks, Chandler, Cox, Denison, Eden Eden, Eldridge, Finch, Garson, Grider, Griswold, Harding, Harrington, Herrick, Hutchins, Kernan, Knapp, Law, Long, Mallory, Marcy, McDowell, Miller of Pennsylvania, Morrison, Nelson, Noble, O'Neill of Ohio, Pendleton, Radford, Ross, Scott, Steele of New-York, Steele of New-Jersey, Stiles, Strouse, Stuart, Voorhees, Wadsworth, Winfield.

THE $200,000,000 FIVE-FORTY LOAN.

Mr. STEVENS called up the bill, heretofore reported from the Committee of Ways and Means, amendatory of the Loan Act of March 3, 1863. He proposed several amendments, so that it would read:

SECTION 1. That in lieu of so much of the loan authorized by the act of March 3, 1863, to which this is supplementary, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to borrow, from time to time, on the credit of the United States, not exceeding two hundred millions of dollars during the current fiscal year, and to prepare and issue therefor coupon and registered bonds of the United States bearing date March 1, 1864, or any subsequent period, redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after any period not less than five years, and payable at any period not more than forty years from date, and of such denominations as may be found expedient, not less than fifty dollars, bearing interest not exceeding six per cent. a year, payable in bonds not over one hundred dollars, annually, and on all other bonds semi-annually, in coin; and he may dispose of such bonds at any time on such terms as he may deem most advisable, for lawful money of the United States, or at his discretion for Treasury notes, certificates of indebtedness or certificates of deposit, issued under any act of Congress; and all bonds issued under this act shall be exempt from taxation by or under State or municipal authority; and the Secretary of the Treasury shall pay the necessary expenses of the preparation, issue and disposal of such bonds out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated; but the amount so paid shall not exceed one-half of one per cent. of the amount so issued and disposed of.

SEC. 2. That the Secretary is hereby authorized to issue to persons who subscribed on or before the 21st day of January, 1864, for bonds redeemable after five years and payable twenty years from date, and have paid into the Treasury the amount of their subscriptions, the bonds by them respectively subscribed for not exceeding $11,000,000, notwithstanding such subscriptions may be in excess of $5,000,000, and the bonds issued shall have the same force and effect as if issued under the provisions of the act to authorize the issue of United States notes and for other purposes," approved Feb. 25, 1862.

Mr. BROOKS, of New-York, (Dem.,) said the amendment of $11,000,000 authorized a new loan to that extent, and therefore moved the following amendment:

Provided, That the $11,000,000 be deducted from the $200,000,000 authorized by the first section of this act.

This amendment was disagreed to.

The amendments proposed by Mr. STEVENS were adopted, and the bill as above given passed.

OPERATIONS BEFORE CHARLESTON.

Mr. BLAIR, of Missouri, (Union,) offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Navy be requested to communicate to this House the following information: All his instructions relative to the attack upon Charleston, and all his correspondence with Rear Admiral Dupont relative to that attack, previous to April 7, 1863, and subsequent thereto; and all other information possessed by the department or its bureaus growing out of that memorable contest; and all the reports of officers and others relative to iron-clad vessels and their adaptability to naval warfare; any order of the Navy Department relative to withdrawing the iron-clads to the Mississippi or elsewhere; also, the telegraphic order of the President, dated April 13, 1863, directing Rear Admiral Dupont to remain inside of the bar at Charleston, and prevent the enemy from erecting batteries on Morris Island; and whether this order was acknowledged and promptly obeyed; also, the telegraphic order dated April 14, 1863, directing Rear Admiral DUPONT and Gen. HUNTER to take the batteries on Morris and Sullivan Islands; and whether said order was obeyed or attempted to be obeyed; also, the order of the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 6, 1863, directing Rear-Admiral DUPONT to cooperate with Gen. GILLMORE, and whether said order was obeyed; and whether Gen. GILLMORE complained of a want of cooperation on the part of Rear-Admiral DUPONT; also who devised the plan of attack attempted on Fort Sumter, by Rear-Admiral DUPONT, on April 7, 1863, and whether such plan was communicated to the department before it was made; and whether Rear-Admiral DUPONT asked for more troops previous to April 7, 1863, or protested to the department against such attack; and whether any order previous to that date was given him to attack Fort Sumter, or in any manner set against his judgment in the operations before Charleston; and whether any suggestions or plans of that officer, or requisitions for more ships, were refused or declined by the Navy Department, previous to his attack upon the defences of Charleston; and whether the port of Charleston is absolutely closed to blockade-running since the monitors went inside the bar.

Mr. STEVENS objected to the introduction of the resolution.

Mr. DAVIS, of Maryland, (Union,) appealed to the gentleman to withdraw his objection.

Mr. BLAIR said injustice had been done to the Navy Department by the adoption of a previous resolution, and it was but fair that the one he now offered should be agreed to.

Mr. STEVENS certainly did not wish to do injustice to any one, and would not insist upon his objection.

Mr. DAVIS, of Maryland, inquired whether the resolution covered all the orders.

Mr. BLAIR replied that it covered everything. The department shrunk from no investigation.

The resolution was adopted.

NATIONAL BANK COMMITTEE.

Mr. HOLMAN, of Indiana, (Dem.,) offered a resolution, which was passed, instructing the Committee on the Rules to inquire into the expediency of reporting a rule for the establishment of a committee, to whom shall be referred all matters relating to the National Banks.

Mr. LANG, of Missouri, (Dem.,) offered a preamble, concluding with the following resolution:

"That the President of the United States be and he is hereby most earnestly but respectfully requested to appoint FRANKLIN PIERCE, of New-Hampshire, MILLARD FILLMORE, of New-York, and THOMAS EWING, of Ohio, and such other persons as the President shall see proper to elect, as Commissioners on the part of the United States, who shall be empowered to meet commissioners of a like number for the same object on behalf of the Confederate States, at such time and place as may be agreed upon, to ascertain before a renewal of hostilities, whether the war shall not come to a close, and the Union restored by a return of all the States to the allegiance and rights under the Constitution."

Mr. DAWES, of Massachusetts, (Union,) inquired of Mr. LANG whether he would not substitute VALLANDIGHAM for EWING or FILLMORE, while Mr. ASHLEY thought Mr. BUCHANAN ought to be added to the list of commissioners.

The resolution was rejected, only twenty-two members voting for it, namely:

YEAS—Messrs. J. C. Allen, Ancona, Brooks, Coffroth, Dennison Eden, Eldridge, Finck, Knapp, Lang, McDowell, Miller of Pennsylvania, Morrison, O'Neill of Ohio, Pendleton, Radford, Randall of Pennsylvania, Rogers, Ross, Stiles, Strouse, Voorhees, Chilton A. White.

The nays were 96.

THE SUPPRESSION OF THE REBELLION.

Mr. SCHENCK, of Ohio, (Union,) offered a series of resolutions, to wit:

"That the present war against the armed insurgents, banded under the name of the Southern Confederacy, was brought on by a wicked and wholly inexcusable rebellion, and all those engaged in, or aiding and abetting it, have incurred the name of public enemies, and should be treated as such."

The above was agreed to.

The next resolution was read, namely:

"This rebellion should be effectually putdown, and to prevent a reoccurrence of such rebellion in future, the cause which led to this one must be permanently removed."

The yeas and nays were demanded on the last clause, as to the removal of the cause of the rebellion.

J. C. ALLEN, of Illinois, (Dem.,) as his name was called voted yea, amid excessive laughter.

Mr. ALLEY, of Massachusetts, (Union,) voted no.

This caused much merriment, but the gentleman directly changed his vote, explaining that for the moment he thought he was voting right, being opposed to the gentleman from Illinois.

The House was in most excellent humor, the laughter being loud and prolonged.

Mr. COX, of Ohio, (Dem.,) amid the confusion, said: "We, on this side, vote for the resolution, because the causes of the war were abolition and secession, and ought to be removed."

Mr. MALLORY, of Kentucky, (Dem.,) said he voted aye for a reason similar to that just assigned by the gentleman from Ohio.

The roll call having been completed, the result was announced as unanimous, viz:—yeas, 125.

The next resolution in the series was read, and is as follows:

Resolved, That in the struggle now going on for the safety of our country and free government there is no middle ground on which any good citizen or true patriot can stand, neutrality or indifference, or anything short of a hearty support of the Government, being a crime where the question is between loyalty and treason.

This last resolution was also unanimously adopted.

MILITARY ARRESTS.

Mr. PENDLETON, of Ohio, (Dem.,) offered the following:

Resolved, That, as the sense of this House, the military arrest, without civil warrant, and trial by military commission, without jury, of CLEMENT L. VALLANDIGHAM, a citizen of Ohio, not in the land or naval forces of the United States, or in the militia in actual service, by order of Maj.-Gen. BURNSIDE, and his subsequent banishment by order of the President, executed by military force, were acts of mere arbitrary power, in palpable violation of the Constitution and the laws of the United States."

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, (Union,) supposed the question had been settled at the last election in Ohio, and moved to lay the resolution on the table. Disagreed to by a vote of 34 to 84.

The resolution was then rejected by a vote of 47 yeas against 76 nays, as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. James C. Allen, Ancona, Baldwin of Michigan, Brooks, Chanler, Coffroth, Cox, Dawson, Denison, Eden, Eldridge, Fink, Garson, Harding, Harrington, Herrick, Holman, Hutchins, Kernan, Knapp, Law, Long, Marcy, McDowell, McKinney, Miller of Pennsylvania, Morrison, Nelson, Noble, O'Neill of Ohio, Pendleton, Radford, Randall of Pennsylvania, Rogers, Ross, Scott, Stebbins, Steele of New-York, Steele of New-Jersey, Stiles, Strouse, Stuart, Sweet, Voorhees, Wadsworth, Chilton A. White, Winfield.

NAYS—Messrs. Alley, Allison, Anderson, Arnold, Bailey, Baldwin of Massachusetts, Baxter, Blair of Missouri, Blow, Henry Bond, Brandegee, A. W. Clark, Freeman Clarke, Clay, Cobb, Cole, Cresswell, Davis of Maryland, Dawes, Deming, Dixon, Donnelly, Driggs, Dumont, Eliot, Farnsworth, Frank, Grinnell, Hale, Higby, Hooper, Hotchkiss, Hubbard of Iowa, Hubbard of Connecticut, Jenckes, Julian, Kelly, Kellogg of Michigan, Kellogg of New-York, Loan, Marvin, McBride, McClurg, Morehead, Morrill, Morris of New-York, Amos Myers, Norton, O'Neill of Pennsylvania, Patterson, Perham, Pomeroy, Price, Randall of Kentucky, Rice of Maine, Schenck, Schofield, Shannon, Sloan, Smithers, Starr, Stevens, Thayer, Thomas, Upson, Van Valkenburgh Washburne of Illinois, Washburn of Massachusetts, Whaley, Williams, Wilder, Wilson, Windom, Woodbridge.

The House at 4½ adjourned.

SALE OF THE ESTATE OF PETER MCLOUGHLIN, ESQ., DECEASED.—A very valuable estate is about being disposed of this day, at 12 o'clock, by MESSRS. LUDLOW & CO., auctioneers. It consists of several houses and lots situated in Chatham-square, Pearl, Madison, Worth and Monroe streets. There is expected to be much competition in this sale, as the houses are located in quarters where business men "most do congregate." This estate was owned by Peter McLOUGHLIN, Esq., formerly Governor of the Almshouse, and who died some ten years since. He was well known throughout the City and vicinity as a gentlemen of wealth and influence. In consequence of the death of his two children, the sale of the estate takes place in accordance with the terms of his will. Messrs. THOMAS MULDOON and JOHN McLOUGHLIN, nephews of deceased, have supervision of the sale as executors and trustees.

THE SANITARY FAIR IN BROOKLYN.—The attendance yesterday was not as great as it was on other days during last week, in consequence, probably, of the threatening state of the weather. At night, however, there was a perfect jam, and the receipts were larger than on any previous night. The receipts were also much larger by the sale of goods—from Knickerbocker Hall and the New-England kitchen—than ever before. It is estimated that about $50,000 was taken in by the Treasurer, which will now swell the total amount of receipts to $380,000 and upward. If the pressure continues till the end of the fair, some $500,000 will be reached.

CUSTOM-HOUSE COMMITTEE.—The Congressional Committee—Messrs. ROLLINS, HUBBARD and LE BLOND—were in session yesterday in one of the Collector's suites of private rooms. The Collector will be present only when called upon to testify. The proceedings are not to be made public during the session of the committee.

UNION LAMP FOR BURNING KEROSENE.—This lamp burns without smoke, chimney or odor. It is cheaper than candles or burning-fluid, and will not explode. It is extensively used in hotels, boarding-houses, sick-rooms and nurseries. The advertisement explains it more fully.

LATE SOUTHERN NEWS.

Severe Cavalry Fighting in Mississippi.

SHERMAN'S ARMY STILL ADVANCING.

News From Georgia, Tennessee and Florida.

THE FIGHTING IN MISSISSIPPI.

The Richmond Sentinel of Feb. 26 has the following:

STARKSVILLE, Miss., Monday, Feb. 22.

There was heavy fighting all day yesterday at Pautotoc.

We killed 40 and captured over 100 of the enemy. Our loss is not known. Col. FORREST is killed. Col. BARKESDALE and McCULLOCH are badly wounded. The battle closed by a charge from the enemy's cavalry, which was repulsed.

ATLANTA, Friday, Feb. 26.

The enemy have left Pautotoc. We have lost many officers and men. SHERMAN'S advance has reached Pearly Pear.

OPERATIONS IN GEORGIA AND EAST TENNESSEE.

DALTON, Friday, Feb. 26.

The enemy have disappeared from our front, retreating toward Chattanooga. Gen. WHEELER is in pursuit. Gen. LONGSTREET has withdrawn his forces to a point not prudent to mention. The enemy has not yet crossed the Holston.

Gen. BUCKNER has been assigned to the command of Gen. HOOD'S division.

Two Yankee mounted regiments, supported by a division of infantry, attempted to flank our left, and occupied the Gap, three miles from Dalton, on the night of the 25th. SMITH'S Texas brigade drove them out. Our loss in wounded was 150, including Col. CURTIS, of the Forty-first Georgia. Ten were killed.

On Thursday, the 26th, the enemy fell back two miles, and will not probably make a stand this side of the Chickamauga. All signs of a general engagement have failed.

Gov. BROWN, of Georgia, has issued a proclamation convening a special session of the Legislature for the 10th of March.

GREENVILLE, Tenn., Saturday, Feb. 27.

Gen. JONES captured 250 of the enemy, and thirteen negroes and five mules, east of Cumberland Gap.

THE BOMBARDMENT OF CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, Thursday, Feb. 25.

One hundred and forty-six shots were fired at the city during the last twenty-four hours. The enemy are erecting a battery on Dixon's Island, commanding Schooner Creek.

CHARLESTON, Saturday, Feb. 27.

A Yankee picket-boat, containing one officer and five men, were captured last night. The enemy continued to shell the city. One hundred shells were thrown at the city yesterday.
